College Moves A Step Closer To Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa

The twenty-eight members of Phi Beta Kappa on the Mary Washington College faculty have submitted a petition to the national headquarters of the organization requesting a chapter at the College.

The action came at the invitation of the Senate of Phi Beta Kappa which indicated that such a petition would be recommended for favorable consideration by the full Council at its triennial meeting this fall.

Approval of the petition by the Council represents the final step in lengthy efforts to obtain a chapter of the nation's oldest and most prestigious honorary scholastic fraternity at Mary Washington. Approval requires an affirmative vote by two-thirds of the chapters represented at the Council meeting, which will be held at Indiana University September 9-11. This vote must also represent a majority of the 184 chapters of the Society.

Since charters are granted to the Phi Beta Kappa members of the liberal arts faculty of a college, rather than to an institution, this group is responsible for initiating efforts to obtain a charter and for organizing a new chapter and getting it under way.

At Mary Washington College steps to obtain membership in the Society began as early as 1964. Following initial organization of the Society members among the faculty, James H. Croushore, Associate Dean of the College, was selected to conduct the correspondence with the United Chapters and serve as chairman of a steering committee.

Application for a charter required an exhaustive report on every facet

Admission of Men Now Possible at MWC

All legal regulations barring the admission of men to Mary Washington College have been removed, a move which will open the way for male applicants to enter degree programs as early as the 1970 summer session which begins June 15.

The action removing the regulations came at the request of Chancellor Grellet C. Simpson during the February meeting of the University of Virginia Board of Visitors. In addition, the General Assembly has approved a December request by the Chancellor that all language be removed from the Virginia Code "which could be construed as making the enrollment of male students illegal."

Male students were permitted to enroll at Mary Washington College last summer in accordance with a recommendation made by the Future of the College Committee. They were not, however, admitted to degree credit at MWC.

The recent action means in all probability that in the next academic year the College, which was designated the women's undergraduate college of arts and sciences of the University of Virginia in 1944, will have male students in degree programs for the first time since 1958 when the last of the post World War II enrollees, a Korean war veteran, was graduated.

In announcing the changed status, Chancellor Simpson noted that while the college may enroll male students, this would not alter Mary Washington's relationship as an affiliate college of the University of Virginia, nor would it have any impact on the academic program offered by the College. It simply means that if they so desire, men may attend MWC.

Applications are now being accepted from male students—both as residential and nonresidential students. Thus far, however, there have been only a few applicants and most of these are residents of the Fredericksburg area and would be nonresidential (off-campus) students if admitted.

Mrs. Bushnell, Dies in Florida

Mrs. Nina G. Bushnell, Dean of Women at Mary Washington College for 29 years, died Wednesday, March 18, in Bradenton, Florida. She was 89.

Born in Bristol, Tennessee, Mrs. Bushnell joined the staff at Mary Washington in September, 1921, and served continuously until September, 1950. Following her retirement as Dean of Women here, she accepted a similar post at Moravian College in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania.

Upon her retirement at Moravian College, Mrs. Bushnell moved to St. Petersburg, Florida, and had resided at Bradenton Manor, a home for the elderly, for the past four years.

MWC MACE This silver mace, designed especially for the College by Asprey and Company of London, England, was given to the College by Lewis M. Walker, Jr., outgoing chairman of the Mary Washington College Committee of the University of Virginia Board of Visitors. A traditional symbol of authority, the mace will be carried by the Marshal of the Faculty in all academic procession.

Drugs: A Product of Society

By Kathleen Atkinson

Miss Kathleen Atkinson, a sophomore transfer student from Alexandria, Virginia, wrote the following story which appeared in the March 13 issue of the Bullet.

Dr. John Buckman, associate professor of psychiatry of the University of Virginia, spoke Monday night, March 2, to a large crowd in Ann Carter Lee ballroom. Addressing himself to the problems of drug usage in the "drug addicted" Western society, he pegged the general attitude as one of "better living through chemicals."

Dr. Buckman divides drugs into those that are socially acceptable and those that are not. The socially acceptable drugs include alcohol, amphetamines, and barbiturates. The non-socially acceptable drugs are the hallucinogens or psychedelic, "mind-expanding" drugs, with the weakest being marijuana and the strongest LSD.

In discussing the effects of these drugs, Dr. Buckman pointed out that many aspects of the psychedelic drugs are far less hazardous than the socially accepted drugs. He compared the many times aggressive attitude of the intoxicated person, the seldom violent person on psychedelic drugs. Alcohol is also addictive, while the psychedelic drugs, on the whole, are not. He says the main difference is in the state produced, and that the socially accepted drugs "do not interfere with your going to work."

Psychologically the psychedelic experience makes the person "far more

In addition to aggressive tendencies, the tendency toward suicide is much higher with the socially accepted drugs. Recently there has been a big problem with amphetamines in this context, since they are so readily available. They produce euphoria, which leads to greater use and suicidal depression. Barbiturates are used quite often in suicide. They are euphorants and sedatives and are very highly addictive.

The psychedelic drugs are very closely chemically related to one another. They also have the potential of causing both good and bad effects. The taker's underlying personality along with his attitude and the setting in which he takes the drug help determine the outcome of his trip. Age regression has been one outcome that has been produced to advantage in psychotherapy. Mindexpanding and religious experiences have also been much publicized.

The mechanics of the psychedelic experience involved a "disruption of the impulses of the central nervous system, predominantly of visual and auditory senses." There is also "disruption of the nature and amount of the nature and amount of sensory input." Dr. Buckman says, "One can experience any one sensation by two modalities of experience—one can see sound or smell sound." There is distortion of external perception and things appear more vivid and colorful.

Psychologically the psychedelic experience makes the person "far more intuitive than any of us is in a normal waking state," even though much of the person's judgment is disrupted. The person detects unconscious attitudes in others very quickly. "For many, latent qualities are awakened," says Dr. Buckman. There is no construction of attention as exists in a normal waking state through our inhibitory devices, and the person is aware of everything, but in no particular order. There follows in the person, according to Dr. Buckman, a feeling of intense joy at "discovering himself," and the conviction that this experience is of utmost importance and will "save the world." Suspicion and even paranoia are common with all these drugs.

Dr. Buckman points out that heroin is very different from the rest of these drugs. He says, "The person who takes heroin doesn't seek the psychedelic experience—he seeks oblivion." He characterizes the person on heroin as essentially angry and alienated. According to Dr. Buckman, one fourth of all the heroin addicts in the United States are located in big cities, with most of them in New York.

As aids in psychotherapy, Dr. Buckman believes many of the psychedelic drugs show great promise. However, he stands against unsupervised use of any of these drugs. He especially cautions people to "stay away from LSD—if you take it long enough you can almost be sure to come unglued." He feels marijuana is less serious, "but with chronic use of any drug, including marijuana, there can be loss of memory and judgment."

The way of life in Western society has a lot to do with the use of drugs in Dr. Buckman's view. He points to the pressures of modern life and says, "The present generation is not only better educated, but much more scared and anxious than previous generations." He adds that along with these pressures the "exchanges of parental love for grades" make the situation worse.

Dr. Buckman feels that "the use of drugs may increase in the next two or three years and then level off." He adds that right now the use of drugs is primarily a middle class phenomenon. Dr. Buckman says that "adolescence may be the worst time to try the stronger drugs . . . yet for the most part, adolescents are more easily treated for addiction than are adults."

Dr. John Buckman, one of the few men in the United States licensed to use LSD in research, has been an associate professor of psychiatry at the Medical School of the University of Virginia since 1966.

Born in Poland, Dr. Buckman earned his medical degree at Kings College in London in 1950. His research with LSD began in 1946 at London's Marlborough Day Hospital.

MWC Students Share The Cost

Statistics compiled and released by the State Council of Higher Education indicate the students at Mary Washington College pay a higher proportionate share of the cost of education than do students attending other state supported institutions in Virginia.

The study prepared annually by the Council shows that students at Mary Washington provided 54.7 per cent of the College's income during the 1969 fiscal year, compared to an average student contribution of 28.5 per cent at all state institutions.

Mary Washington was the only institution at which the student share of the income was greater than 50 per cent and the College's $774,07 average fee per student was the highest in the state and more than $200 greater than any other state school.

The study further indicated that Mary Washington's share of income from the Commonwealth was well below the statewide average. Last year, for example, the state per student appropriation to Mary Washington was $635.24, while the statewide average was $969.01.

Governor Names Five To Board of Visitors

Governor Linwood Holton has named five new appointees to the University of Virginia Board of Visitors, including the first student ever named to the University's governing body.

J. Harvie Wilkinson III, a 25-year-old

A New Rector: Joseph H. McConnell

Joseph H. McConnell, a Richmond attorney, has been elected Rector of the University of Virginia succeeding Frank W. Rogers.

Mr. McConnell, who is president of Reynolds Metals Company, was appointed to the Board of Visitors in 1968. He is a graduate of Davidson College and received a law degree from the University in 1931.

Prior to assuming the presidency of Reynolds Metal Company in 1963, Mr. McConnell served as president of the National Broadcasting Company (1949-1952) and also as president of Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Company (1953-1955).

The Rector of the University is the presiding officer of the Board of Visitors and is responsible for lining the order of business.

law student at the University, was named to a four-year term, as were Lawrence Lewis, Jr., of Richmond, Edward K. Maternal of Roanoke; Donald Eugene Santarelli of Alexandria, and Dr. Brownie Edward Pally, Jr., of Big Stone Gap.

In addition to the new appointees, two incumbent members of the Board—Mrs. E. Parker Brown of Richmond and Dr. John Hartwell Harrison of Boston, Massachusetts—were reappointed for four years.

Those retiring from the Board upon completion of eight years of service to the University included Frank W. Rogers, of Roanoke, Rector of the University; Lewis Walker, Jr., of Petersburg, Chairman of the Mary Washington College Committee; and W. E. Johnson of Exmore.

Departing after four years of service were J. Harvie Wilkinson, Jr., of Richmond, father of the newly appointed student member, and William M. Birdsong of Suffolk.

Mr. Lewis, the chairman of the board of Flagler Systems, Inc., is a former member of the Board, serving previously from 1960-68. Mr. Maternal is a consulting engineer; while Mr. Santarelli is an associate deputy attorney general of the United States; and Dr. Pally is a dentist.

Wilkinson, a 1967 magna cum laude graduate of Yale University, is expected to be graduated from the law school in 1971.

Phi Beta Kappa

of the College. This self-evaluation took approximately three years to prepare and was submitted in October, 1968. This was followed last March by an inspection visit to the campus by two members of the Committee on Qualifications.

In visiting a campus the Committee considers the strengths and weaknesses in an institution. The Society requires that member institutions emphasize a curriculum which is definitely liberal in character and purpose and afford adequate instruction in the fields of the human sciences and letters.

Upon completion of the inspection visit, the Committee on Qualifications made its recommendations to the Senate of Phi Beta Kappa.

In preparation for the September meeting, the Society has sent a statement about Mary Washington College to all of the chapters. This statement reviews the salient features of the curriculum and gives the essentials on staffing, enrollment, library holdings, and other pertinent factual material.

According to the Key Reporter, a quarterly publication of Phi Beta Kappa, some sixty-nine institutions applied for a study by the Committee on Qualifications during the 1967-70 triennium, and Mary Washington was among nineteen visited by the Committee.

Founded at the College of William and Mary in 1776, Phi Beta Kappa has recognized academic excellence and achievement for nearly 200 years. At present there are 184 chapters in the Society, and the living membership is 215,000.

Homecoming Activities Feature A Look at the Past and Present

The Alumnae Association has announced its plans for the 1970 Homecoming, to be held at the College June 5-7.

Highlighting the weekend events will be a program at duPont Hall Saturday morning which will focus on the College today. An alumna will review her impressions of Mary Washington gained from discussions with current students. After her presentation members of the audience will have an extended opportunity to question a panel of students, faculty members and administrators.

The Saturday morning session will also include the presentation of the Distinguished Alumna Award. This is an annual recognition made by the Alumnae Association of one of its members who has made an outstanding contribution to her profession, civic activities, the arts, the sciences or humanitarian causes.

Following lunch at Seabeck, the College dining hall, the activities will take a lighter tone. Alumnae will have the opportunity to "see themselves as others saw them" when the Association shows old films and presents a display of photographs taken at earlier periods in the College's history. In addition the following special reunion classes will be honored during the festivities: 1915; 1920; 1925; 1930; 1935; 1940; 1945; 1950; 1955; 1960; and 1965.

The program Saturday will also include special activities for husbands. Provisions have been made for golf, tennis, handball and swimming. During the afternoon the men will have an opportunity to hear a presentation by a representative from Anderson and Strudwick, members of the New York Stock Exchange.

At 5:00 p.m. Saturday the Association will hold a party for alumnae, their guests and members of the faculty at Spotswood Alumnae House. Chancellor and Mrs. Simpson have extended an invitation to the alumnae to attend the buffet supper at Brompton at 7:00 p.m. that evening.

In addition to the scheduled events, reunion classes have planned private festivities for Friday and/or Saturday evening. Members of reunion class groups should contact their class agents for details.

Registration for returning alumnae and their husbands will begin at 4:00 p.m. Friday at Spotswood and will be continued through the day on Saturday. They will reside in Virginia and Willard Halls during the weekend.

The festivities will conclude with Sunday breakfast at Seabeck. Alumnae are invited to attend the Commencement Exercises at 9:30 a.m. Sunday on Ball Circle. In case of rain the graduation ceremony will be moved to George Washington Hall and admission will be limited to those having tickets.

The registration from and additional details for Homecoming Weekend will be provided in the April issue of the alumnae magazine. For further information contact the Alumnae Association, Box 1315 College Station, Fredericksburg, Virginia 22401.

Alumnae Organizes In Chicago

Efforts are underway in the Chicago area to establish a regional chapter of the Mary Washington College Alumnae Association.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Carolyn Crum Pannu, the group has met twice in recent months and has set its next meeting for Friday, April 10, at 1:00 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Carolyn Perdue Johnson, 1123 Ridge Avenue, Elk Grove Village, Illinois.

Persons in the area interested in joining are urged to attend the meeting and may contact Mrs. Johnson (tel. 439-5538) for further information.

Any former student who attended the College for at least two semesters is eligible to join an Alumnae Chapter.

Alumnae Giving Boosts Drive

Gifts to the Alumnae Association's annual fund drive now total nearly $17,000 with three months remaining in the effort to achieve a $40,000 goal.

This is nearly $2,000 more than collections at this time a year ago when only one month remained before the end of the drive. Last year the Association ended the fiscal year on April 30; this year it will end on June 30 to correspond with the College's and facilitate bookkeeping procedures.

With three months remaining in the most ambitious fund drive ever conducted by the Association, officials are cautiously optimistic in assessing the chances of achieving the goal, which is double the amount collected last year.

In addition to sustaining the operation of the Association itself, the fund provides a vital source of revenue to the College that would not otherwise be available.

MEMORIAL FUND SET UP BY FRIENDS OF LYNN RUBY

Friends of the late Lynne Mary Ruby '68, who was killed in an automobile accident on January 9, 1970, have announced the establishment of a memorial fund to benefit Mary Washington College.

As a student at the College, Miss Ruby served as a freshman counselor, as a member of various S. G. A. committees and as an officer of the Young Democrats. Upon graduation, she accepted a teaching position at Woodbridge Senior High School, Woodbridge, Virginia, where she was a faculty sponsor of the Senior class and the cheerleaders. She also served as an alumnae agent for the Class of 1968.

Friends and former MWC classmates have indicated their hopes that the memorial fund can be used for scholarships. The application of the fund will depend upon the total amount contributed and will be determined by the trustees of the fund in consultation with officials of the College.

Gifts may be sent to the Lynn Ruby Memorial Fund in care of the Alumnae Association, Box 1315, College Station, Fredericksburg, Virginia 22401.

RECRUITING ACTIVITIES DECREASE AT COLLEGE

College recruiting activity, apparently reflecting the nation's softening economy, remains in a downturn at midpoint in the 1969-70 season, according to Isabel Gordon '42, Placement Director at Mary Washington College.

Figures released by the College Placement Council, a non-profit national service organization for the college placement and recruitment field, indicate that employment for students receiving a bachelor's degree is down 16 per cent from last year.

Recruitment at Mary Washington College is generally following this national trend, stated Miss Gordon, especially in employment by the federal government.

Government job offers are off at least 20 per cent from last year the Director estimated. Several other Virginia colleges have reported a similar drop in

New Majors On Area Studies

Two new programs—Russian Studies and Latin American Studies—have become Mary Washington College's newest majors and will begin accepting students in the 1970-71 academic year.

Approved at recent faculty meetings the new programs will be interdepartmental disciplines, the fifth and sixth such majors offered at the College. They bring to twenty-six the number of major programs available at Mary Washington.

As approved, the program will combine the study of Russian language and literature with cognate courses chosen from various departmental offerings in economics, political science, history, philosophy, and sociology.

In conjunction with the Latin American Studies program Mary Washington offers both Spanish and Portuguese and numerous other courses dealing with Latin America.

The program is intended to give students interested in humanities and/or social sciences an opportunity to concentrate on the Latin American region.

Graduates of 1969 Still in the Classroom

A survey of the members of the Class of 1969 indicates that a majority of the recent graduates are probably still in the classroom—either as students or teachers.

Of the 34 responses to an employment questionnaire received by the Placement Bureau at the College, 148 of the graduates indicated they were teaching, while 57 stated they were continuing their formal education. An additional 10 were employed at institutions of higher education in research capacity.

Among those continuing their education, one is now studying medicine at the Medical College of Virginia; a second is a law student at the University of Virginia. Graduate studies carried yet a third member of the College's largest graduating class to Hebrew University in Jerusalem.

Some 38 of the new alumnae accepted positions with the federal government; and another 34 decided upon careers as housewives. Occupations in the social services proved appealing to nearly 30 graduates, such as federal agencies such as the Peace Corps, or other agencies of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare; others with private organizations such as the Red Cross; and still others with state or local social agencies.

Jobs and studies took the former students as far afield as Paris, Madrid, Jerusalem; Alaska, Hawaii, Chile, Korea, and Viet Nam. They also, however, kept some 32 members of the class right in the Fredericksburg area.

government opportunities with the University of Virginia reporting a cutback of about 50 per cent.

Federal government cutbacks in research and defense spending and the general economic slowdown resulting from government efforts to slow inflation are cited as the chief reasons for the downturn in employment opportunities.

The teaching profession is apparently one exception to this general trend. The Mary Washington graduates who go into elementary school teaching will have no real problems finding jobs. Miss Gordon said, but secondary teaching opportunities are down, particularly for history, English and political science graduates.

The teaching field apparently will take some graduates this year who might otherwise have gone into business or industry or government work.

ASSOCIATION ELECTIONS — 1970

Classes 1913-31

Lucy Houston Christian '26
Urbanna, Virginia

Lucy married to Francis C. Christian, now retired, received M. A. degree from George Washington University. Voting Procedures

The Board of Directors of the Alumnae Association determines policy for the Association and is responsible for major decisions in such areas as fund-raising, budget, Homecoming and chapter relations. Although there are several appointed members, the majority of the Board is composed of fifteen members elected by the alumnae on a class and geographical representation basis. (The appointed members, or those who serve by virtue of their position are as follows: The Chancellor; the Assistant to the Chancellor; a representative from the faculty; a member of the Senior Class; the immediate Past President of the Alumnae Association; the Chancellor's appointee; a representative from the Alumnae Council; and the Director of Alumnae Affairs. These people serve one-year terms on the Board and are eligible for reappointment. They may not serve as officers of the Alumnae Association.) Each elected member serves a three-year term. Officers of the Alumnae Association are chosen annually by the Board from the fifteen regional and class representatives.

In June 1970 five of the fifteen elected members will retire from the Board, their terms having expired. They cannot succeed themselves. The retiring members and the groups they represent are:

Judy Finger Bradley '64
Classes 1963-66
Eloise E. Clark '51
Classes 1950-57
Kathy Friedman Levinson '63
Classes 1963-66
Ethel Nash '14

Dorothy Booth Saunders '55

Zone 4

As each class graduates, the Alumnae Association happily welcomes several hundred new members. So that proportional representation by class and geographical location will be maintained as consistently as possible, the Nomination-Election Committee studies the representation at regular intervals and makes recommendations to the Board of Directors. At its October, 1968 meeting the Board adopted the following class representation (effective June, 1970):

Classes 1913-31	1 director
Classes 1932-41	1 director
Classes 1942-50	2 directors
Classes 1951-59	2 directors
Classes 1960-65	2 directors
Classes 1966-70	2 directors

The total number of directors on the Board remains the same. No change was made in area representation:

Zone 1 (Virginia)	2 directors
Zone 2 (D.C., Md., Del., N.C., S.C., Tenn., Ala., Ga., Fla.)	1 director
Zone 3 (Me., Vt., N.H., Mass., R.I., Conn., N.Y., N.J., Pa., W. Va.)	1 director

Zone 4 (All others, including foreign)

1 director

The bylaws of the Alumnae Association also provide for the annual election of a member of the Nomination-Election Committee. This group is composed of three alumnae, each of whom serves a three year term. The committee is charged with the preparation of lists of nominees to the Board and the supervision of details of the elections. The group elects its own chairman. The member retiring in 1970 is Mrs. Juan Ashton Steppé; the two remaining members are Mrs. Shirley Conrad Heim and Mrs. Mary Ellen Seaborn Gilham.

Brief biographical sketches of the nominees are provided here for the convenience of the alumnae. Ballots for the election will be sent to all alumnae by the end of March. Voting in this election shall be by mail only. All ballots must be postmarked no later than midnight, April 15, 1970.

William and Mary and at the University of Virginia. She is employed as a teacher of American history and civilization in the Fairfax County school system. Her hobbies include music and reading, and she has participated in activities of the Northern Virginia Chapter of the Alumnae Association.

Anneis Jane Bradley '68
Alexandria, Virginia

Jane was SGA president in 1967-68 and president of Willard Hall for the 1968-69 school year. She received the 1968-69 recipient of the Kiwanis award. Since graduation she has been employed by the National Labor Relations Board in Washington and is also a part-time graduate student at the George Washington University School of Government and Business Administration. She is a degree candidate for an M. S. in 1971. Jane is now serving on the Alexandria Community Action Board and AAUW Board of Directors.

Patricia Mae Boise '69

Pattie is math teacher at Woodbridge Senior High School in Prince William County, was enrolled at the University of Bridgeport in Connecticut for the summer of '68. She is now doing graduate work at the University of Virginia. She enjoys all sports and has spent much time this year organizing and participating in activities of the students at MWC where she served as President of Mary Hall and as SGA President. In 1969 she was the recipient of the Kiwanis Award and the co-recipient of the Thomas Jefferson Cup.

Sally Monroe Fox '68
Cranbury, New Jersey

Sally's MWC activities included service as president of the Janes Chapter, President of Jefferson Hall and May Queen. In September, 1968 she was married to John Fox, a credit analyst. Prior to the birth of their son, Christopher, on Christmas Day, 1969, Sally worked for the Alumni Council Office at Princeton University. Reading, crewel and needlepoint are some of her special interests.

Susan Rutan Joeckh '63
Cincinnati, Ohio

Susan was President of Honor Council and Vice-President of the Junior Class at Mary Washington. She was listed in Who's Who Among Students Who Attended Colleges and Universities. Prior to her marriage to Karsten Joeckh she taught 4th grade in California. They now have two children: Kristopher, 3½; Michael, 1½. While the Joeckhs resided in California, Susan was instrumental in organizing an alumnae chapter in Southern California and served as its president. She is very active in the College Hill Presbyterian Church in Cincinnati and enjoys cooking and tutoring underprivileged children.

Carolyne Crum Panna '61
Evanson, Illinois

Carolyne is currently trying to organize an alumnae chapter in Chicago. She also has been active in the Miami Chapter. At MWC she was listed in the 1960-61 Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. She was President and Vice-President of the YWCA. Her special talents in music have been evidenced by her participation in the Mary Washington Chorus, the College Chorus. In 1965 and 1967 she appeared on the Perry Como and Jackie Gleason Television Shows in Miami. After taking management training with Eastern Airlines in 1968, she became a stewardess instructor and staff training specialist for them. Her latest work involves the Mothers' March of Dimes. Carolyne and her husband, Dr. J. Singh Panna, who is presently doing a residency in eye surgery, have a one-year-old daughter, Kara and expect their second child in March.

In response to our plan for news Waverly Lawson McCauley wrote that she retired in 1965 after teaching for 34 years in Virginia and North Carolina. Her leisure time now enables her to participate in community activities, and she belongs to a book club, a home demonstration club, the Womans Club, the Community Center and the Knights of Columbus. Her son who is in the insurance business, has just been transferred to Richmond from Charlottesville and they are delighted. Two grandsons are, as she says, "just beams of sunshine in our lives." Waverly had a cataract operation recently and, with one eye still bandaged, she is looking like a pirate. The doctor says she is coming along well, which we are glad to hear.

Ora Grace Tiller, who also retired after teaching for a number of years, has been enjoying her days. She says, "The yard is my delight. In the spring it is beautiful when the dogwoods, camellias, azaleas, hyacinths, tulips and many other flowers are in bloom. Later there are roses and all of the summer flowers. I never tire of working in the yard". Ora serves as the librarian of her church. She has four children and five grandchildren.

Dear Classmates:

First the Christmas cards from Edna Gibbs Hunter, Mary Temple Coleman Theimer, Alice Warren Twiddy, Margaret Sayre Ransome, Elsie White, Ruthie Scott Braden, Jeanne Berry Poqua, Ruthie Lambeth Masters, Mamie Turbert Kelly, Virginia Boleyn and Lucy Keeney (1913) and Wallace Smith.

Elsie writes of an ill sister who had been in the hospital for live weeks and now is in a nursing home. Edna was able to go to Florida or to spend Christmas with her daughter because of her sister's illness.

Mary Temple Coleman was unusually interesting. Her sister, Ruth, came from Chicago for a visit at Christmas, and they did much traveling. There was a visit to their brother, a retired minister in Matthews County, and a trip to Fayetteville, North Carolina, to see a friend. On this trip they stopped at Tuscaloosa, Alabama, for a few days. Mrs. Miller had recently been admitted to Campbell College, where he taught. A portrait of him had been unveiled by children of the family.

Elsie is yet working, but plans retirement before too long. She writes that Josephine White is now caring for her invalid sister, Lydia, a recent victim of polio for Josephine. Margaret had a card from her. Elsie also hears regularly from Sarah Gediman McAllister, whose two married girls are now back in college and making excellent grades. Sarah has two grandsons, Vietnam Nam, end up near the fighting line. Two other grandsons are in college, one of them on a scholarship to Yale. I am sure Sarah has a reason to be proud of her college family.

Mannie enjoyed a nice visit back home on the Eastern Shore in October and being with her daughter, Ann, in Richmond.

In December I met Ause Latase Ware Bedinger, Estellete Bradbois Moore, Isabell Willis Rowe and Katherine Scott Warren '14 at Miller & Rhoads in Richmond for a delightful fellowship and lunch. We Richmond Mavens were happy to see each other again.

Eltinge gave me news of Grace Teacher's death Thanksgiving Day, November 27, 1968, after a long illness. Our sympathy to any surviving relatives and friends.

Our class was saddened and distressed to learn of the sudden death of Alice Warren Twiddy on New Year's Eve, December 31, 1968. She was enjoying life as usual and had good reports from her doctor. Her Christmas card and letter was really something "special" and I shall cherish it. Our deep sympathy is for Calvin and Jean. Alice always looked forward to our reunions with enjoyment.

I was disappointed when I saw my column in the last issue of the class news and noticed that the list of persons in attendance at the Moore's celebration in honor of the 50th anniversary had been omitted. I think all the old Mary Washington girls were mentioned in the 1913 Class, but there were others present also.

I hope you will remember the Fund Drive and make a contribution.

Please write about yourselves. Others want to know about your activities. A Happy New Year to All!

Love,
Ruth

Nancy Carr Harrison writes she and her housemate Rachel Gettle spent Christmas in Williamsburg along with Nancy's sister and mother-in-law. Nancy has gotten to be almost the fall Nancy had a lovely trip through New England and left she was drawing in color as they went along the Mohawk Trail through the Berkshires and Catskills.

She is Chairman of a circle in her church, also active in her woman's club in Rehoboth.

So nice to hear from you, Nancy.

Since November, I have had an acute attack of glaucoma followed by an operation in Richmond Eye & Ear Hospital. I had Thanksgiving and Christmas with my 2nd son and his wife and their two sons in Lynchburg with my 1st son Bill.

Now I am home, doing nicely, and ready to read say and all letters from you. Don't keep me waiting.

After reading my letter in the alumnae news telling of the sudden death of my sister, Lydia, the following girls send their letters of sympathy: Jeanne Ward, Eline Berry Poqua, Calie Bailey Cutchin, Maxine White Bear, and Ruth Carter Vellines '15. I do appreciate each of the letters more than I can say.

Jean Miller Ward, as you remember, moved to Bristol, Tenn., after losing her husband in '67. She and our Amy Vanagrook left about $50,000 to the Old Dominion College in Norfolk. I hadn't heard that, but I knew she left M.W.C. $1,000. Jean seat her best wishes to all who still remember her.

I had a nice Christmas message from Lillie Lee Michele Behrendt and her son Bertha Scott. They spent several days with her in her little apartment in Charlottesville in October, and they made out fine.

Elinie Berry Poqua told me of the death of Alice Warren Twiddy '15, who passed away around the first of the year after a short illness. My deepest sympathies to her husband and the rest of her family. She also told me that while visiting Milbourne Clark '18 and her husband were celebrating her birthday on December 9, she died suddenly. My deepest sympathy goes out to you, Louise.

Effie wrote that she and her husband spent an extended Christmas holiday with her daughter and son-in-law in their new home in Sterling, a new development in just 2½ miles west of Washington D. C. They had sent plane tickets to fly from Norfolk. They were snowed in for one week. I am glad, Effie, you have recovered completely from your fall. Ann, her granddaughter, did not return to MWC after her illness, but went to work instead. Effie hopes to make Homecoming next June.

Calie Bailey Cutchin spent Christmas in Atlanta, Ga. She visited her sister and her husband. She said she will not be able to come to Homecoming this spring. Her eldest granddaughter will graduate from the University of Wyoming and oldest grandson from high school with an A average. The granddaughters and all the family will come soon after and be with her most of the summer. The granddaughter will again be counselor at their Methodist Camp. The grandsons will begin his post-work at University of N.C.

Margaret White Bear writes that they had such a nice Christmas. Their son and his family came from Wilmington, Del. for the holidays. Her youngest daughter moved to Wilmington the first of January to be head of the reference department in the city library there. Margaret mentioned that she had seven sisters and how fortunate they were that all of them were still living. I wonder if there were any more.

Please more of you write and tell me about yourselves. Also remember to contribute to the Alumnae Fund so our class can make a good showing, and begin new to make plans to meet in June.

Please write me and tell me about yourselves. Also remember to contribute to the Alumnae Fund so our class can make a good showing, and begin new to make plans to meet in June.

We certainly hope to see many from the Class of 1915 at our Homecoming. Contact me and make plans now to be in Fredricksburg June 5-7.

Thank you girls for your lovely Christmas cards, also the sympathy notes from you. I heard about my husband's sudden death December 8th. After forty-six years of happy married life you can imagine how I miss him.

Please write me of your news.

I see Mary Elise Burke, Donald Katherine and Jeanne Ward, and Amy Vanagrook White Miller often. Also play bridge with Sarah Johnson once in a while.

Have a wonderful new year, and make your plans to meet me at "Home Coming."

Claudia Wilkins Kitts retired in 1968 after 40 years of teaching and is thoroughly enjoying her new way of life. On October 11, 1969 she was awarded the TEACHER OF THE YEAR plaque for long and faithful service in the field of education by Masonic Lodge No. 199, Colonial Beach, Virginia. Congratulations Claudia and much happiness in your retirement.

Georgia Overman Stewart spent some time with her son in Germany last summer. It is rumored that she had a most enjoy- able stay.

There are class directories available for any one interested. Drop me a note or give me a call at 703-471-3123, and I will be happy to send you a copy.

'30 No Agent

As this class news went to press, the Class of 1930 was without an agent; though a request has been made. If, b ut you would like to help us, say "yes" we hope you will ignore the heads above. We promise to include you in the newslett er.

Meanwhile, several members of the class kept in touch by writing to the Alumnae Office. Here's what they had to tell us:

Frances Johnson Hubbard continues to teach at a private school in Charlottesville.

Frances Edwards is a guidance counselor at Rockingham High School in Warsaw, Am. Did you know that she received her M.Ed. from the College of William and Mary in 1965? She sounds very busy. Both of her children are now married. Garland, Jr. ("Max") lives in Monroe, where he works for an insurance company. Edwards spends his days mothering two daughters and a son. It sounds as if Frances plans to continue the routine in June.

A postcard from Elvira Conner Co carried the information that she and Andrew Steele Smith '31 live in Manassas. Andrew has two children and five grandchildren. She and her husband are real estate brokers. She has a salesperson license, an diploma. In addition she is an accredited lower show judge and writes a weekly social column for the local paper. Elvira's son, who graduated from UVa in June, is now employed as a civil engineer with the Chicago Bridge and Iron Company.

We certainly hope to see many from the Class of 1930 at our Homecoming. Contact me and make plans now to be in Fredricksburg June 5-7.

I'm happy to report four weddings for the Alumnae News. Miss Patricia Gail Cooney and Robert Doublat, Jr. were married September 13 at the Clarence Memorial Church, with the reception at the Army Navy Club, Chapel Hill. They are now living in St. Paul, Minnesota. The parents of the groom are Robert and Thelma Evans Doyle. David and Mary Frances Rowe Warner daughter, Mary Susan, was married to Robert Ross Ely in December in the Albion's Episcopal Church, Washington D.C. They will live in Wilmington, N.C., where the bridegroom is attending the University of North Carolina.

Mrs Margaret O'Neil Donavan was married to William S. G. Britton in Richmond, December 27th. The parents of the groom are William and Margaret Britton.

J. P. and Edie Harter Sicker's daughter, Sylvia, was married last year. Edie had a nice visit with Sally Laevring in November. Sally works for Social Security in Washington.

Charlie and Bill Wheeler McCullum spent the Christmas holidays in Los Angeles, Calif. where they went to visit their daughter and son-in-law, Ann ('64) and Jim Freer. They also visited Louise Jeodings Dreamer in Milbrae, Calif. Louise's daughter, Judy has two girls, Carolyn, 6, and Heather, 3. They are now busy and have had their second trip around the world. Another daughter, Sally, is a student at Arizona University. Louise is teaching in the Communication School at San Mateo.

Emil and Page Whitehead Hasky's son, Stephen, is at Cambridge University, England, working on his PhD. Another son, William, is a medical student at the University of Maine. Page and Emil were guests of Bill and Charlie McCullum in November. The Hasky family were together at Christmas for the first time since 1965.

Sam and Adele Mansfield Goodwin have a second grandchild, a boy. A daughter, Judy, is in Germany teaching the children of servicemen on the army base at Geilenhausen. Another daughter is a social worker in New York.

Vernon and Ruby Lee Norris visited the four countries in the British Isles last July. They have moved to an old town house near the Virginia Museum in Richmond. On Nov. 8, they became grandparents for the second time.

Dorothy McGuire Bunch and her two children, all last summer at their summer home in Sandbridge, Va. They are in Clinton Forge for a few days just after Christmas.

Alex and Elizabeth Hart Robertson live in Hartsville. They have a daughter who attended Mary Washington, and another who is attending Virginia Commonwealth University.

Doug and Audrey Rose Burton live in Stuart, Florida.

We thank for Christmas cards from classmen as they give us some news to write to the class. Thank you very much.

My family now numbers one at home with me. — my eighth grade son, Jonathan. My son Warren is married, is back at MIT studying for a master's degree in management. One daughter is married and working in Washington, and another daughter works in Richmond.

The classmen who came to Homecoming in June. We have a good time. Next year, 1971, is our 35th reunion, and we hope to have many of us back then. So please be thinking of coming.

HOW ABOUT SENDING ME SOME NEWS?

'37 No Agent

As this issue went to press, we were still searching for an agent for the Class of 1937. Is anyone interested having some fun and expending a little energy in the hunt?

A lovely letter came from Jaoti Cuoqiang Soter in late October. She and George have three sons. David, the eldest, is a VPI graduate now working for U.S. Steel in Pittsburgh. His wife, the former Linda Thomas, graduated from MWC in 1967. The second son, Robert, is a 1969 Williams and Mary graduate who is currently enrolled in the Graduate School of Social Work at VCU in Richmond. Thomas is a senior at the University of Richmond School of Business Administration.

Won't you take a few minutes to share some conversation and bring us up to date?

My holiday was brightened by Christmas greetings and notes from several '39 girls.

Elizabeth Alexander Howdershell wrote she is still teaching at high school. Her daughter Vera is a high school junior and hopes to attend MWC in September, 1971. Linda Cecil is in service and working as a nurse. Betty and her son live in Richmond. "Mother lives with me since Aunt Eva's death in September. Cecil's health does not improve."

Doris Stagg Pruden said she was expecting Doris from the Methodist home for the holiday. All her other boys have graduated and are doing well in their chosen field. A visit from Louise Godwin Stromman '38 was a happy surprise for Doris. Louise lost her husband a year ago. Her daughter is in high school. I remember studying English Survey with Louise and Anna Mae Herren when Dr. Shaikhan was "pouring it on."

The note on Naoya Herr Fallen's card said, "I'm behind on Christmas and school preparations and am moved to say that '31 year old co-eds are feeble-minded!"

The letter form Kathryn Nieboles Winslow was reminiscent about her early life long ago. In the days of Delco systems before electric power was available to country people, New country people are so dependent upon electricity for everything that when it goes off we are almost paralyzed. In the current news, Kathryn says, "August found us in the Hawaiian islands. We are planning a trip to the Orient in August and will attend Expo '70 in Japan plus a week each in Tokyo and Hong Kong. With extra days in Taipei, Osaka, and Bangkok." I have a lively class of 27 pupils. My spare time is spent with grandson. Maybe I'll put in one more year teaching before settling down to housewifery and babysitting. Doward is in my fourth year at GE making TV's."

Jane Mackie Fields was glad to see 1969 pass. Her '69 Olds had three times and been damaged during the year. Her mother and sister were both injured in the accidents. Jane's pride and joy is the grandsons.

Myrtis Hall O'Sullivan is looking forward to son Bobby returning from Viet Nam soon.

The Christmas holidays were a busy time for Mary Hatack Townsend. Daughter Mary Anne was a debutante in the Holly Ball and had many social activities during the holidays. The family was elated over the safe arrival of son James from Tuy Hoa, Viet Nam, in January. The Townsends attended the State Dairymen's Convention at The Hotel Roanoke.

A nice note from Mildred Rockwell Shire is as follows: "Any kept busy with my job as research director at the geometry-Reading Research Library. Was honored to be included in Who's Who of Women in America. Husband Frank is director of the VPI Library. Son David teaches history and daughter Linda after two years at Mary Washington has transferred to Medical College of Virginia where she is a junior in the School of Pharmacy."

Helen Deppa Hale lives in Orange and is Eligible Teacher at Orange County Senior High. "Where we've been for years than I'd like to remember!" Daughter Jane graduated from MWC in '64 and works in Richmond. Helen and Sara A. Chaudier Badger who lives in Augusta, Georgia, have gotten together for the past two years at Hilton Head Inn. S. C. and son Sara A. Badger, Bill and youngest daughter Beth came too. Daughter Anna graduated from college last year. Sue Bill, Jr., is attending University of Georgia. Helen also wrote she keeps in touch and exchanges visits often with Mildred Powell who has been a close friend since first grade. They grew up in Gordonsville Mill now lives and works in Newport News.

My get-togethers are most varied. Today I worked on removing old tannin from a pew in our old church which was flooded in August. We celebrate our 20th anniversary at Gold Mine this summer.

Come visit us if you find yourself near Louisiana!

Hope all of you are planning to attend our 30th reunion June 6. Virginia Reid Winston's daughter graduates so we will be there for sure. Others planning to attend are Sophie Eisenbach Fleischer, Jane Hatchell Major, Vicki Harris Massie, Mexine Mores Salle and Christine Brown Carter. May Estes Ikey hopes to make it if the date does not conflict. Please see Rick's greeting from '41 & LaVonne.

Emma Ziegler Brown plans to stop off on her way to San Antonio for the General Federation of Women's Clubs Convention. Emma is a candidate for Secretary in this national organization and is the first Virginian to be nominated for a national office since Mrs. J. L. Blair Buck served as President some thirty years ago.

Marie and her "sweetie" husband passed away in October. Marie has a son in college, one in high school and a daughter in the fifth grade. She teaches at Prince Edward Academy in Farmville.

Vicky Harris Massie is Bookmobile Librarian for Louisa County Schools.
See you June 6.

a senior at Cranbrook Boys School, and a daughter who is a junior at Sweetbrier Calvert, a graduate of Wash. & Lee and MD. U. Law School, is on the legal staff of General Motors. Sophie keeps busy with church and community projects. Does little painting, sells on nearby lake in the summer, now and then takes part in Franklin Players group. They have a Belgian key living with them as an exchange student. When their daughter was in high school they had a German girl exchange student for the year, Calbert and Marge both like to travel and they have been to Europe each year recently.

Keep the news coming and when you move send me a change of address card. It will make keeping track of you much easier. And we want to know where all of you are. Thanks muchly for the Christmas cards.

Here's wishing all of you a Happy New Year. I hope you all have a great year. Remember when 1970 seemed so far away?

I just couldn't start any new year without Isabel Martin Wermeyer's annual January letter, but especially this year. As most of you know, Isabel and family are in Tripoli, Libya where a military coup d'etat took place September 1. The Wermeyers are fine, but strange curfews prevent all kinds of activity. Males are banned from participating in the local sports, hospitals and some businesses and industry—but not (Ray's business). We are so glad to hear from Isabel and can draw a breath of relief while they stay. Keith, the oldest son, 17, did not return to school in January. Brian, 16, is working with tropical fish in 13 aquariums; Isabel is interested in flower arranging and compiling an International Seasoning Guide for publication by the Gourmet Club, and Ray is compiling available information on all issues of Libyan stamps.

Isabel also sent news of Judy Preminger Rappaport. She is a widow living in Berlin Amboy, has 2 daughters college age and was considering returning to school to work on her doctorate. It is such a good feeling to see "one of ours" in a chair!

From Peg Pugh I received word our son Chris graduated in December with a degree in history and political science. He is a National Guardsman and expects military service in the near future. Their daughter Connie (a student of mine at Meredith last year) made The Devil's List at Roanoke College this year. Peg's husband is an inspector with the Va. Department of Highways and she has "retired" in "homemaking, golf and all the other delights of the middle years!"

Beth Greve Carver, unknowingly, has really put me in my place! She has sent me Migit (Margaret) Gardner Livesay's address and said Migit and Bob stopped to see them on a Florida trip in November. Migit was at MWC our first 2 years (and a sophomore in 1964). Migit was graduated. I was with her and family in '61 when my husband and I was in Detroit and we have exchanged Christmas cards and notes for 25 years! Barb says Migit "would like to hear from former classmates and Alumnae News." Her address is 4205 Valley Forge, Birmingham, Michigan 48108. I am sure she is involved in that is a garden clubber and Educational Vice President of the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs for 2 yrs. Bob is a legal advisor to a major rail line. Jeanne, their daughter, is in school in Boston. Migit said Barb "had laid out all her MWC books, so had fun. Why don't you put me on your mailing list?" Numberless apologies; we shall do it immediately.

Barb has been in Hollywood, Fla. since '38. She is married to an M.D., they have 2 sons—Richard, a sophomore at Brown Jr. College near Hollywood and James, a grad student at N. C. State U. in Raleigh.

It was so good to hear from Stacie Douras Manders, Norfolk, who has a son at UVa. Her daughter Elaine is a freshman at MWC now. Stacie and her husband are retired and that Stacie lived in as a senior! She loves MWC and we know what she means. Stacie has been extremely faithful in supporting the Alumnae Association through the years.

Marie Williams Pascal says, "I look forward to every issue" She has requested a directory I am still sending these out and am trying to add a list of corrections and additions to go with it. Marie's son is doing his practice teaching in Feb. and graduating in P. E. in June from Norwich U. Vt. Her daughter, a professional photographer, is a lab technician at Eastman Kodak in Rochester. The Pascals and Colemans ("Johnny" Elton Johnson) get together once a year for a week end. Thanks for all your good words, Marie.

Now for Christmas card notes—Flora Copeland-Burke writes that Frances Reector Steagall was there to show off this summer at the Hills Arch. same several weeks ago. Our sympathy on the death of your mother, Kitty. Pioneer Grinstead sent a colored picture of her family for the scrapbook. Wish all of you would do the same. Ruth Ferguson McClelland's daughter is a freshman at Randolph-Macon; she thought MWC too large so she is going English this summer. Billie Hiltz Parker's son Sogg have been busy getting settled in their new home of a year in Greenville, N. C. She was a delegate to the National Congress of the DAR in Washington and Si is developing a new course, Black Politics in America, to be offered in the spring quarter at East Carolina. Carol and Jim Hiltz have recently moved to Rutherford at Mt. Olive (N.C.) College and I'm expecting a visit in Raleigh soon. There was also a card from Nancy Legis Russo and her family.

Peg Malone Logan's Christmas card was done in the form of a newspaper. It is very clever and again a riot, someone in that family has a knack for writing! I was shocked, as you will be, to learn that Peg lost part of her right lung in an operation last summer because of a tumor. Please pray for her recovery. I hope she will be happy to have seen Elsie Brauer Lee at the Virginia State Fair, September '69.

Jean Everett Dixon and her husband, Bernard, live in Mechanicville, Va. They have five children, two of whom are twins (five years old). Bernard is an auditor with the Federal Government.

Sherlye Both Wylde and her husband, Edwin, live in Stamford, Conn. Edwin is New York district sales manager for the Sharpen Steel Corporation. Sherlye substitutes for me for singing in Greenway Chorus, tenor, guitar, piano, and woodwinds on her husband's band. Her son, Jeff, has finished his work at Wooster College and is working on his master's degree. Jane, 15, is a sophomore at Greenwich High School.

N. Celeste Jones retired from the Richmond Public Schools in August. "Celeste is a well known Richmond educator who believes schools should be "more a home than an institution." Miss Jones is looking forward to traveling as well as concentrating on her antique hunting.

Dorothea Loma Dent sent greetings at Christmas. Dorothea and her husband live in Linville, Alas. with one son. Tommy who attends Arbutus while Richard attends law school at the University of Ala. It was good to hear from you, Dorothea. Thank you!

Doris Welch Button sent a picture of her eight children, which she is allison in hopes it will be printed. Welch says she still enjoys the sun and surf; of course she lives in Florida.

Jean Harper Lee writes of her many side trips (sounds like vacations) to New Orleans, Acapulco, Bermuda, etc. Jean and Sandy now live in Oklahoma City. Jean still runs a full time taxi service between schools, place lessons, Camp Fire Girls and other children's activities.

Elizabeth Stalling Sharp now lives at Midwest City, Okla. Their daughter, Martha is in the 10th grade and Kenneth is in the 8th grade. Elizabeth is treasurer of her Sunday class among many other activities. Elizabeth hopes to get in touch with Jean Harper Lee very soon.

Beverley Beadles Jackson lives in Rutherford, N.J. Beverly's husband, Barnett, is a registered seed propagator. They have two boys, 16 and 17. Beverly says she was happy to have seen Elsie Brauer Lee at the Virginia State Fair, September '69.

Jean Everett Dixon and her husband, Bernard, live in Mechanicville, Va. They have five children, two of whom are twins (five years old). Bernard is an auditor with the Federal Government.

Sherlye Both Wylde and her husband, Edwin, live in Stamford, Conn. Edwin is New York district sales manager for the Sharpen Steel Corporation. Thank you for writing to the Alumnae Association or to me.

Hi Classmates—

Whee! Welcome in that low, luscious, laid-back feeling of January! No mad rush to the candy store, no wildly flailing arms waving, binding, taping packages for Christmas — no pies to bake or cookies to cut or halls to deck. Semester exams for those of us who teach, are over, and the grades are posted.

This is the easy part of the year when everybody can slip into a lovely lassitude and anticipate the coming of spring and entertain the thought of seeing the faces of those we love dear—the classroom of 1945. Please make your plans now and make every effort to attend the 25th reunion this June 5th, 6th, and 7th.

News has arrived from Mildred Savidge, who is currently employed as a computer programmer in the Analysis and Computer Division at N.A.S.A., Langley. Her new address is 2 Keweenaw Lane, Hampton, Virginia.

Yes, the years are passing and our children are growing up. Many of them are college age — Mary Deswell Simpson's son, Grace Bailey; Linda and Linda's son, Bruce Koenig's son, Fred; Fran Watt's brother, Sam; Vicki Gunz Blanck's son — just to mention a few. We wish that our sons, who are both away in college, were the age of Bobby Olsen, Helen Hawkins Olsen's son. Helen writes that Bobby is currently participating in junior high sports.

We're most appreciative of the fine memories that children provide to sustain us through the years when they do leave us for the higher institutions of learning.

I am so anxious to hear news of you and your families.

Let's get together at the reunion, June 5th, 6th, and 7th.

I'll be there, will you?

Sincerely,
Gloria

Barbara Daniels Johnson reminds us that her eldest daughter married and continued as a senior student at VCU in Richmond. Another daughter, Janet, is a freshman at that college and her youngest is only in the second grade. Naturally, Barbara is busy with Brownie Scouts and room mother jobs.

Charlotte Kalin Harvey had intended to be with us at reunion but her husband got laid up with a broken leg. "Cathy" is busy with church, a Cub Scout den and the board of a Protestant-Catholic-Jewish Task Force for Utica. Other than these side lines, she is Director of Social Services at the general hospital. The Harvey family spent their summer vacation in Maine and Vermont.

Jane Davis McCormick was thinking of us all at homecoming time but had to make a trip east (from St. Louis) in September and couldn't make two trips. Sure would like to know about Jane's activities.

Betty Forsyth Somers and family spent a few days at Seabrook Lake in Maine and were joined by Jeanne Farrington Leslie and family.

Leona Hall Howard writes that the eldest of her five children has started college there in Florida.

Mary Elswog Shannon's oldest girl has been accepted at Sweet Briar.

Frances Hostett Layton and family enjoyed a camping trip out west last summer. They had supper and a good visit with Anne McCaskill Libis on New Years Eve. The children even rode the horses.

A Christmas card was received from Betty Purcell Logan and Peggy Elliott Sweeney.

Delma George (Major U. S. Army) has returned safely from Viet Nam and is now stationed at Fort Lee, Virginia. Her adopted son, Michael, comes from Marshall University (Huntington, West Virginia) this year as an honor student.

Irv Whitlow Westbrook sends news that his eldest daughter, Diana, has been accepted for early admission at William and Mary College and won a scholarship. "Kitten" wants you to know that Diana is also quite an athlete, which (quaint) kitten never was. Last summer, Irv and Diana went to Lake Superior in Canada with Andi Dalay Drennen and boys. Also Margaret Thompson Pruden came to a convention in Richmond in October and had lunch with Irv. She saw Frances McClellan Barkay at the State Fair in September.

Betty Gilmer Cooyer has a new home in Williamsburg where her husband is a history professor. Irv and family spent New Years Eve with them.

Hilda Josep Blakemore and family visited Irv's home last summer when only the daughters were at home.

A news release received recently tells us that Margaret Hause Stikel has been promoted to the rank of professor at the University of Maryland. She is the Chairman of the Department of Biology there.

I know you will be saddened, as I was, to learn of the death of Betty Russell Brown on February 5, 1970. Our deepest sympathy to her family.

Once again I received so many interesting letters at Christmas. How nice it is to hear from old friends! Hope I will be seeing many of you at June's 20th reunion.

Was surprised to receive some news of old friend, Mrs. Louise Wilder. Mrs. Wilder moved to a new 4 bedroom colonial in Oct. It is located in Wheaton, Md. and sounds great. Charlotte is teaching and Roland is with the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division of the IRS.

Gracia Folley Kather's card came with an envelope containing her greetings which were from Germany. Rudy has been sent since Sept. Raytheon and they've been there since Sept. Recently Switzerland over Thanksgiving weekend and Rudy has met some 1st cousins for the first time. He and Gracia are both taking German lessons.

The Bob Warrens (Mary Cestegham) have moved to North Barrington, Illinois from N. J. They like their 4-year-old Dutch colonial which is on a heavily wooded acre. The back of the property slopes down to a large lake where they can sail in winter and swim and boat in the summer. Older daughter, Karen, is a high school senior who is interested in art, planning to major in art education. Son Rob, has a part-time job as bus boy at the nearby country club and youngest daughter, Chris, goes to her contact lenses for Christmas. They all seem happy in their new home. — — — — — Bob having less time to work and Mary doing some bridge playing and bowling along with housework chores.

Sirley Cole Schleter wrote of her week at Nags Head this summer. Also of interest was her husband's John Johnson who was Master of his Lodge was awarded 18th Masonic 33rd Degree in the fall. He is the second youngest man to be awarded this honor! And he also received the Dept of Commerce Silver Medal for Meritorious Service to the USA. How proud you all must be!

Nancy Lee Fox Sease was to spend winter in Europe for the holidays, but due to Sept. 14, the war in Viet Nam began. Nancy is commanding officer of a destroyo on a Mediterranean cruise. Nancy and Spouse planned to go to Venice and Florence first joining Tae in Toulon for Christmas then all three of them would travel to Paris. Nancy said, "At last we get to travel I think we will be staying in Paris." She also mentioned having a horse, at last, and is having a great experience training him to show and hunt.

Too bad she can't get together with Carol Bailey Miller in Leesburg, Va. who does so much of this. Unfortunately the latter part of 1969 was not the best for Carol and our sympathy is extended to her and her family on the sudden death of mother and step-father in such a short period of time. Carol was recovering from an operation but is feeling well, hoping to spend sometime in Fla. before returning to work. She sent a picture of herself, Bill, and son Billy-my, what a boy, and all I can say is: how time flies!

Anne Osborn (Ozzie) Cox mentioned seeing Marey Weatherly Morris and Heidi Hopkins Mizell this summer. Our sympathy to them on the loss of their son.

Traveling from Ridgewood, N. J. to California for the holidays were Barbara Lucy Hiller and the girls. They were to join Jim who had been working there temporarily as a management consultant. She's looking forward to the reunion, especially since she briefly visited the campus last April.

Also getting back to Virginia from Fla. was Nathalie Dodson May—only said as far as I could tell, but said she was really glad to get back to the States. She has seen Barbara Green Gates recently and also mentioned hearing from Carolyn Ball Elling, ex '50 who is in Boulder, Col. and spent last summer at Nags Head. San Giney Lee Dewey (Mrs. John) '49 from Deeweys has been elected to state senator.

John Naylor Moultrie is now teaching 5th grade in Baltimore. His oldest child graduates from high school this year and is a National Merit semi-finalist.

Still in the L. A. area of California is Ned Wilcox. But now she's near Newport Beach and finds it more relaxing. She's planning to take time off from her job in the beginning of June to see friends and relatives and to attend Homecoming.

Alma Calfee (Mrs. John) San Diego — is Betty Gandy Lampard. Her family is active in all kinds of things — Cuba church choir, sailing, etc. Betty directs 2 youth choirs and has organized a handbell choir. Husband, Clarke, is now a Deputy Probation Officer with San Diego County working with juvenile boys in an honor camp.

Martha Carr Hudwill will have a dual celebration in June — 20th reunion of MWC and receiving her master's degree in French from Marymount. Her family has been — — — — — just had 2 sets of tonics removed on the same day. And she says "the most traumatic experience of the year was sending the 'baby' off to grammar school."

Jessie Newell Becker reports an enjoyable fall cruise on the Swedish ship Grimaldi. The whole family went — let N.Y., then to Quebec, Nova Scotia, and to Bermuda where they spent the weeken at the Coral Beach Club. Sounds like fun! Children Tom (13) and Muffin (7) were met some young girls from Lynchburg, Va. aboard Jackie is living in Tenley, N. J. and we're looking forward to summer.

Still in Warren, Pa., Barbara Birkemeyer Mader has been putting with real estate and is involved in the League of Women Voters. The children in 7th and 8th grades still prefer Winter Park, Fla., but have adjusted well. Husband, Bill, had a good job and now hopes to take up flying again this spring.

Marcia Egist Johnson is back at work again as a school librarian alternating weeks between 2 elementary schools in D. C. area. Son, Woody, is a high school senior and is president of the National Honor Society. His dad is a doctor. Better in junior high. An auto racing enthusiast in all sports. And little Peggy, 3, is keeping everyone busy with her energy and charm.

Mary Pessach School and Dick are traveling from Augustus, N. J. to Montclair State College (our school) to take courses. Mary will be teaching toward her master's.

As so many of you may already buy in their area now, here you will all try to get to Fburg the weekend of JUNE 5, 6, 7. Please answer my questionnaire if you haven't and send pictures for the scrapbook. Also send in your registration blank quickly to the Alumnae Office when it appears in the Bulletin. That way we can all have rooms together in the dorm. See you all in June — I'm sure we'll all have fun!

Peggy Jo Ellis was married recently to Paul B. Gill, Jr., an electrical engineer. And we're off to the English Riviera.

Jean Schlesinger Schneider and Stas live in Chappaqua, N. Y. and have a son 10. Joan is president of the Westchester National Council of Jewish Women, a group of 700. Their primary involvement is working with culturally deprived pre-school children in day-care centers and housing developments in their area.

Bucky Spitzer Harvill and Robert are enjoying their new life in New Jersey. They bought last summer. Robert recently went on a business trip to Italy for Westminster.

Joan Morgue Rountree and Jack enjoyed vacationing in New England and Canada last fall. Their daughters are 5th and 8th graders now. Joan wrote that Nore La Hulma Watson (32 who also lives in Lake City) received her degree from the University of Florida and is doing a wonderful job directing the kindergarten for underprivileged children in their area.

Connie Beaseurt Elliott is teaching full time this year. Gene and their boys are "Mummies" — play in a string band and march through Philadelphia in wild costume and usually freshen up every New Year's Day, an old and old Philadelphia tradition.

Nancy Melthes Miller and Bruce are completing a 3 year tour in Kingsville, Texas where Bruce is a jet instructor in the Navy. Nancy is a social worker for the State Dept. of Public Welfare and finds the work—and living in the country—so far so good. You can harder very interesting. They expect to return to Norfolk this summer, where they have their permanent home in an old residential area near the water.

Nancy sent additional tid-bits: Hussey Corbett Friel is on the West Coast. Nancy Corbett is married to a commander in the Navy, has 3 sons and was stationed in Calif. ss Christmas '68. Leah Leads Shelburn and Bob live in Virginia Beach where Bob has a teaching position. Their other children, Barbara, Barbara Dickerson and John as orthopedic surgeon, live in Norfolk. Two of their children, Keko Moore is married to a commander in the Navy. has four children and was last reported living in Virginia Beach. Peggy Miller teaches in Norfolk.

I discovered in flipping through my address file this morning that we live about a mile from Nan Richardson Donofrio, and had great fun chatting with her on the phone. Her son, Michael, is a sophomore at Belmont and their sons are 12 and 14. Nan heard from Polly Wattoo Godine that she and Dick have bought a large farm in Earlyville, Virginia, near Charlottesville. They have 4 children. Kitty Johnson Griesmer has 5 children, and lives in Lynchburg, Long Island.

Betty Fletcher Adams and family have moved into a new brick rambler set on six acres of land. They are able to have their horse and two ponies. All the girls including Betty are very active in the Poney Club Sounds like Betty!!!

Janie Foster Kohr's oldest, Steve, is a freshman at Rider College near Trenton. Betsy 15, stays busy doing most of the training of the Kohr's 4 year old, half Arabian filly.

A "woman behind the man" portrait in the Tidewater Virginia Ledger-Star in October had as its subject none other than Lois Bellavia Martin, whose husband Fred was a member of the defense staff of the U.S. Civil Justice Court. The Martins have three children. And, from the sound of it, Lois keeps herself more than busy with family activities as well as sketching and ceramics. Our belated congratulations to the judge on his appointment.

Have received several address changes from the alumnae office. Wish you would write and tell us about your new location, why you moved, etc. Such as Bitsy Clark in Washington, D. C. and Sarah Herring Estes in Scottsburg, Virginia. Who likes to hear from a lot more of you by next time.

Last summer we Savapolous moved to a suburb north of Baltimore where Mike is 7 minutes from his job with Maryland Specialty Wire Co. (compared to an odds-against survival 50 minute commute in N. J.). However, he often comes home for nacho, my utter dismay—love, honor and obey notwithstanding! I spent the first two weeks of Christmas vacation with him and a severe attack of my perpetual neck trouble. The physical process was unbelievable—they even x-rayed my head (though there!!) I am now spitting in a steel brace . . . and well on my way back to normal rate of deterioration. Please note our new address, and stop with holding news forthwith!

Hi Everybody!

A newsy note from Vera Bestwick Willis in Heidelberg Germany! She and her husband have been in Germany for three years on a Defense Department job and hope to stay two more. They have been touring different areas of Europe in their free time.

Eleanor Zwoedt Phillips and Charles in Bradenton, Florida, have adapted their second home, Elizabeth Anne arrived last month and their son Eddie is now 4. Charley is a bibliographer with the Shipping Guide Bureau and Eleanor still teaches second grade.

My roommate Nance Hoffmann Edman lives in Norristown, Pennsylvania. Husband, Fred has gone into business for himself as a consulting engineer. They are the proud parents of four boys: Kirk 9½, Craig 8, Brian 5, and George 16 months. How many car chases have four children now? It would be interesting to know if anyone has topped this yet!

In Chesterfield, Massachusetts, Norma Bourne Eisbier has been busy working on a master's at the U. of Massachusetts. This year she started teaching language arts and social studies to grades 5-8. Husband, Bill sells building supplies and their children, Donna, David and Danny are the eighth, ninth and tenth graders respectively. She has been active in Girl Scouts for many years, represented the Western Mass. Girl Scout Council at the National Convention in Santa Fe last fall. While on the west coast, she was able to visit Jean Austin Weber in Los Angeles.

Where are Sue Sykes Shipman, Lois Jean Verling, and Jean Armstrong? That's all for now!

Hi Girls,

Congratulations to Colleen O'Rear Lewis and especially her wife who has passed the bar exam in Florida and is associated with the firm of Tolbert, Lewis & Fitzgerald of Arlington. Colleen also sent a clipping informing all that May Day rates are no more! Miami Rainey Mayberry has moved to North Springfield, Va. Peggy Jane Crabtree Riddle is living in Rosedale now. How about you all? We're still here. Our class file hasn't been heard from since last year. Joyce Hines Schaffer has moved from Frederickburg to Bolivar, Tenn. Zella Ann Smith Wyker has moved from Ohio to Amherst, Mass.

Keet Millar Stow has been all over the place since '81! Fred is with Gulf Oil Corp. and they have lived in Pittsburgh three times, England twice and Houston, Tex. three times. The kids are all here now. They have two boys — 7 & 7½ and a 1½ year old girl. Nice to hear from you Kent! Laurie Ray Reed, have you moved to another home in New Canaan, Conn? Sara Parcells Vignal has been living in Somerton, N. J. since last year. Pat Horner's mother seems well that Pat is Mrs. Edward Madia, Jr. and is living in Somerton, Pat, can you tell us in our details? Debbie Booth Sanders and her family have a new apt. in Barberville, Ky! Jackie Davies Woolfolk has a new home in Amherst, Pa. Margaret Gates Ruff has a new home in Springfield, Va.

An Daasway Criswell wrote such a nice letter. She talked with Mary Kate Bird DeLillo and we are corresponding in Calif. Agnes and Floyd purchased a Spanish Colonial style home in Tampa, Calif., which is close to Vandenberg AF Base—where he is a senior engineer with McDonnell-Douglas Co. They have really been taking advantage of being on the West Coast by touring all over. Sound marvelous, Ans! And I submitted UVA last summer on an E.P.D.A. (Ed Professions Dev. Act) in the field of English.

We are fast approaching our 15th reunion! Joan and I look to you for suggestions, help, ideas and support in planning for it. As with the previous pictures will be taken of the group and time will be provided to sit and talk, etc. We'd like all of you to bring pictures of your families homes, etc. We'll sell up a bulletin board! And, anyone who can't get to Fredericksburg in person, must send pictures of yourselves! We figure to get a good crowd that way! Get in touch or arranging for car pools—today! If anyone can come from Conn. and N.Y.?????

On with more news! At Christmases, Colleen O'Rear Lewis sent her regards, as did Alice Lou Rohrbach, Ann Lee Berry Andrews, Jo Robins Orr, and Chris Harper Morris. Chris wrote she had a couple of nice visits with Ann Daasway Criswell before we moved to St. Louis. Charlotte Fisher Klappert sent a few Christmas cards. Thanks Charlotte! King Davis Moore is Ruthie Glen — just 36 miles from Frederickburg — so a farm and loves it! Mary Lewis Peck became Mrs. John Baxter early Nov. She and her 11 comdr. are living in Alexandria.

Macky Canaday Sayes is living in New Orleans and Dave is safely back from Viet Nam!

Caroline Jeritza Brown sends her regards. A nice long letter from Mary Kate Lewis, who is on vacation in Costa Rica, when she visited with Shirley Green, Stone Shirley, Sam and their two boys live in Los Angeles where she is active in politics. Shirley, what is your newest address? Mary Kate also spoke with Ann Criswell. Pat Seibert Siegel was born from Manhattan Beach, Calif. on the birth of her third girl, Anna. And, as you know, Most recent news from Linda Johnson McElroy, she spent many weeks in the fall in Denmark where she found and bought the 96 ft. ketch "Sea Raven." She and Tye are having it outfitted for use as a luxury cruise ship that they will operate on a charter basis between Costa Rica and San Andres. Coming up! They are also working on leasing a virgin boat near San Juan, Puerto Rico a resort hideaway in conjunction with the new boat. Linda and Tye are sailing the "Sea Raven" to the U.S. in April. I'll have her letter with me in Juze so you can read all the details for yourselves! It is very exciting!

Between the new house and working part-time at the nursery school, I don't have as much time as I'd like for corresponding with you girls. One of our jobs for the reunions is to find a replacement for me. So be thinking! See you there!

Be

Dear Friends,

Our absence in recent columns has prompted a warm response of notes and letters which are deeply appreciated by us and all our old cronies. Many thanks, girls! Audie Martin, Barbara Burch, Barbara Blue Bell, Pa., is a research chemist. They have three children, Doug (10), Linda (8) and Carl (4). Audie is kept busy with church work, Brownie leader, sewing and an occasional bridge game. Audit belongs to the Phila. Alumnae chapter but has yet to meet a chapter in the meetings. Perhaps the next meeting, Audit, Las Vegas, Nevada, N. Y. City class reunion was cancelled due to late notification, Audit — we all missed it, too! Charlotte Fisher Klappert and Chris had a pleasant Nov. vacation at Curacao, the Netherlands Antilles. She mentioned eating exotic foods (like octopus and sea urchins) and having a fabulous time shopping, dining, relaxing, our daughter Cindy is now in seventh grade and in the same school that Mom attended. Charlotte is still working part-time at Johns Hopkins and enjoys finding some time now and then to sew. Sandra Graham has spent a busy summer involved in Little League softball. Barbara Burch, our summer school student, is driving and, if I'm not mistaken, Sandy's two sons are Stephen 16 and Graham 14 . . . she and Paul are mighty proud of their fine, handsome boys! Neddy Rake Moreeons and Tony's oldest of five, is Anthony who is 14 . . . I guess Naa, it doesn't seem possible! Fran Frude Allen and Marlene Moreeons and their children, with their four children, spent last Thanksgiving with the Moreeons family—they all had a BALL! Love to hear about such nice reunions!

Connie de Chaudens Langam is looking forward to our class reunion this year—our fifteenth! That's right—fifteen short years! We're looking forward to seeing Connie and everyone of you! Please remember to keep our reunion week-end reserved for us and the Class of '55 will be most grateful. We'll be spanned Connie and Jack are now living in Franklin Valley, N. Y. with their daughter, Kathy. Last year they spent a marvelous ski vacation in Canada and plan to do it again this year.

See you in June, Connie! Speaking of June, "Barbie" Anne Haraloo Jesser, "Jess" and their three children, Kathy (4), Diana (12), and Steve (10) will be heading back to the States. "Barbie" is president of the Officers' Wives Club this year which keeps her very busy. Their children are active in school and fine students, too. Diana will spend six weeks in France this summer with the Foreign Study League. Kathy had the same opportunity last summer. "Jess" is looking forward to his new position as duty, John Piedmont Gruppe, who has been a member of the club since Chevy Chase to a larger home in Bethesda MD. Very nice to get your phone call this past summer while you were visiting in Conn., Jessie! I've got down to see the family soon! And Lovelace Trees, Cliff and Vickie (newlyweds) have also moved away. Vickie's brother, Ted, has opened a rep. office for the Mellon Bank of Pittsburgh in Tokyo. (Our world is getting smaller!) And keeps busy with the College Women's Association, Ikebana International, Ikebana classes, Japanese instruction, and Cub Scouts. They find Japan an interesting place to live and enjoy their lives there. Ann enjoys her work as a teacher of our classmates through this column, just as you do . . . so let's hear from you, too! Ann's new address is 5-43, Minami-Azabu, 3 Chome, Minato-Ku, Tokyo, 106 Japan.

"Kitty" Johanna Griesemer '53 and Tom had a lovely addition to their family of Lisa (6), Heidi (5), Jodi (4), and Jill (2). Kristin Carter was born Dec. 16th. They live in Lynbrook, N. Y. but quickly outgrowing their old renovated home, Kitty is kept very busy with her beautified family! "Michele," Felipe Michel '56 is keeping his third grade in Scottsdale, Arizona. Her hands some are really growing . . . Mike is in seventh grade, Pat is 11 yrs. old, and Kevin is 9 years old. Tim has made a career change. He is a graduate student at ASU and developing his own agenda for a career in fund raising and public relations management. I know that Tim will be quite successful — just as he was with the Cancer Society. Charlene Parrotta Dahl wrote at Christmas and spoke of her marvelous trip to Calif. last winter. She and Norman planned to leave in the Sugar Bowl game but had a short layover on to Puerto Rico. Then moved to a new York apartment home just before Christmas, which she loves very much! Nice to hear that the Alumnae luncheon was a success — I'll get there this year!

Roberta Linc Miller took action when she saw our bulletin arrive with no class news! "Bert" entered with the '56 Class, but finished in 3 years with our class. After graduation, she returned to Pa. to teach home ec., and then returned again to MWC to pick up some extra credits for full certification. She taught in the classroom and in the dorms in 1960. Jan Brumback was her maid-of-honor. They lived in Wheeling, W. Va. for a while and now are living in Charleston, S. C. — where Tom is employee rel. manager with Mobil Chemicals two plants there. They became parents of Meredith Lynn on Oct. 19, 1967. Since she has returned to the dorm and is keeping her mother's name, she and her son are Sea-point Siamese cats — on a small scale. (In 1960, she was named one of the ten outstanding home ec. teachers in Pa. — based mostly on her FFA work with high school girls. She also represented MWC at Bucknell U. when their new president was installed.)

"Bert's" sidekick "Buttons" Asst. Professor Molitor lives in Yakima, Wash. and son Dick is a sophomore at the University of Washington. "Buttons" worked in Washington, D.C. and then off to Saigon for a year to work at the embassy. When she returned she married and moved west. Barbara Deibman Drivas is married now; she and Harry live in Winter Park, Florida. The time I had heard/seen "Buttons" was many years ago in Westport, Conn. Ann Osgood, our history teacher, Mrs. Fawcett has two sons and children and lives in Westport. She is a member in searching for her library work for her church circle, and is a graduate at the Natl. Gallery of Art for school children — which she finds most absorbing. They have a summer home in Ocean City and enjoy their vacation there. It was always nice to hear from "Miss Buttons" — her letters are always refreshing and noisy.

Speaking of letters, we all hope that you are receiving the new type of class news via this newsletter. The next issue (hopefully) will be in July, after our reunion. So remember to contribute to the next issue! You may do this by attending our reunion, sending along info now (while it is fresh in your mind) and also before the reunion if you find it an impossibility to attend. If you think that you "have nothing to write" to the reunion, then think (for your practicality). And, don't you dare worry about "how you look" . . . it will be great to see you in any shape, size or form (especially if you are pregnant!). If I can take along my excess weight (believe it or not — it finally hit me at age 40!!!) I hope you are all getting the message. Please, don't wait to see YOU again; it's been far too long, fifteen years, for some! The Homecoming Week-end will be June 5-7, 1970. Now go and mark every calendar in your home — so that you won't forget yourself on that grand week-end! You need to get out and do some visiting and renew/refresh yourself through friendship.

I am teaching again in second grade this year. It is a delightful class and bright as sunshine. The challenging classes I have had previously have made this class a "blackboard heaven." Some of you may not know that I left the social group work field . . . went into package design and advertising . . . then on to the TV business, but that teaching is a combination of many jobs and this keeps me alert, alive and very happy. (Don't think it's too late to return to school to get your masters to teach, etc . . . or that it will be toooo hard! If yours truly did it . . . you all can! Best of luck and fun to you!!!!

Time to sign-off . . . it's been nice talking with you after missing our last news column . . . we both hope to be talking to you directly next time. I hope you will be on the lookout for June 5-7!!! And, with much hope that you'll all arrange to take someone else along with you. Call that classmate, today! In the meantime, have a good day, wonderful springtime and be sure to good to yourself, there's no one else like you!

See you in June!

Gretchen Lewis Hartman and John were married in 1959. They have three children: Laars 8, Scott 5, and Emily 2. John is a urologist in partnership practice in Burlington, N. C. where they live. The Hartmans have moved nine times in ten years, so now I understand why I had such a hard time keeping up with them.

Bartie Stetson Offner and Eric went to Jamaica this winter and in the spring were planning on going to Mexico City for the International Soccer Cup Finals. Eric is as busy as ever with his law work, and is quite active with the affairs of NYC. They love the city life, and find it the best place to raise a family. They have two sons, Bartie Jr. and Jefferson. 5. Judi also heard from Joaqune Ireland Jackson and Frank who have 5 children now, the last one being Catherine Bisque born October 28, 1969. The others are Toquash, Wilson, Monique, and Quincy.

Jean Flitemeyer, Moyer, Bill, and their two children are thoroughly enjoying Singapore. She says the shopping is great and the weather is toddling all over, and Johnny likes his 2nd grade teacher from India. Jean is teaching third grade in the American School.

I visited with Beverlee Marine Schoekert after Christmas and had her lovely family. Bob (Commander now) is being transferred from Engineering Officer of the Valley Forge (which is being decommissioned) to the State of Connecticut Fleet in Norfolk, Virginia. They are 9 yrs. old, and Bob and Bob had been very active in the Episcopal Church here, which is just down the street from our house. Bev gave news that: Ellis Simmonds, Wills and Chuck were in Galveston, Texas last she knew. Valada Montana Delphin and her son were living with Valada's parents in New Jersey. Barbara Mannion Karcher and Bob were in Virginia Beach, and Barbara Haralise Jean '55 and Art were at Moffett Field, Calif. for training.

Jean Teeguells Strong and John have four lovely children whom I saw via picture — Linda, Cindy, Chris and Michael. Mary Beth in Graham, 8, and Nannie 5. They love to travel and have been to many different countries in the last four years, their favorites being England, Switzerland, Italy, and the Greek Islands. They sailed last fall on the Queen Elizabeth II for England. They also have a boat with which they take out to Long Island Sound a 40-foot sailboat. They recently invested in a 40-acre farm in Charlottesville, which they plan to stock with cattle, and use as a vacation home.

Mary Gale Buchanan is now doing display and training at Garfinkel's in Washington, D.C. Her back is mending slowly but surely. She commutes to the Baltimore area for all Colt football games, and sees Barbara Straumann Donovan and Bob there often.

Pat Deat Byanes and Ted welcomed a boy, James Patrick, on July 2nd; 2nd child.

Their daughter, Shannon, is 5. Ted has been promoted to Vice President and Cashier of State Farmers Bank in Richmond, now part of United Virginia Bank. They're in the process of buying a new, slightly bigger, house.

Chocia Crigler was in San Francisco and California for the very first time in her life for a reality convention. She got as far south as Los Angeles and then headed for Kansas City, Missouri. We're sorry we didn't get to welcome her personally.

Mary Goode Young, Sam, and their children Sam Jr., Jr., 19, Virginia 7, and Marie Rebec, born Feb. 24, 1964, have been in Washington (just outside of Philadelphia) for five years now. Sam is President of Professional Pension Planning Corporation and Professional Management Corporation with offices in Philadelphia and New York. Mary sends news that "Red" Rossmell Metzger is in Lynchburg; Jean Ahern Weiss is in Atlanta; Arlene, Michigan; and Cynthia Radack Madson was due to arrive in Baltimore to live, while, do as Army wives. Addresses please, girls.

Anne "Sally" Silliman Parker represented MWC at the dedication of Chesapeake College last fall. The whole family spent a marvelous two weeks in San Francisco and the Carmel (Calif.) area last summer.

Clark Kroecke and Dick have sold their Jackson Hole property as being too far away from home base in California, and have bought a condominium at Alpine Meadows near Lake Tahoe where they can ski all winter, heatless content. Last summer they raised seven hundred pounds of pears, two thousand quince ones, so now there are three.

Nancy Hause Stone and Perry will be in Washington (State) three more years. Perry was recently promoted to Commander. Greg and Courtney are both in school.

Darlene Grove McNeils and Jim are in South Arlington now. Jim is at Headquarters Marine Corps as recently promoted Lt. Colonel. Amy is ready for nursery school, and Dee is ready for some tennis.

Judi Smith Hermanson is the new President of our local (Southern California) Alumnae Chapter. They visited Dyess in Iowa last summer. Judi is teaching an art course part-time for the Adult Education program. Dave is working very hard at Point Loma Center, San Diego, with San Diego Unified Schools, as well as teaching two nights a week. He recently edited a book on Perspectives of a Gifted Program, and he is also Editor of the San Diego Institute of Creativity. At Christmas time Judi heard from Angela Watson Barksdale who with her family had planned a ski trip to New Hampshire for the holidays. Their children are Muffie 9, Lash 8, Rives 6, and Jefferson 5. Judi also heard from Joaqune Ireland Jackson and Frank who have 5 children now, the last one being Catherine Bisque born October 28, 1969. The others are Toquash, Wilson, Monique, and Quincy.

Jean Flitemeyer, Moyer, Bill, and their two children are thoroughly enjoying Singapore. She says the shopping is great and the weather is toddling all over, and Johnny likes his 2nd grade teacher from India. Jean is teaching third grade in the American School.

I visited with Beverlee Marine Schoekert after Christmas and had her lovely family. Bob (Commander now) is being transferred from Engineering Officer of the Valley Forge (which is being decommissioned) to the State of Connecticut Fleet in Norfolk, Virginia. They are 9 yrs. old, and Bob and Bob had been very active in the Episcopal Church here, which is just down the street from our house. Bev gave news that: Ellis Simmonds, Wills and Chuck were in Galveston, Texas last she knew. Valada Montana Delphin and her son were living with Valada's parents in New Jersey. Barbara Mannion Karcher and Bob were in Virginia Beach, and Barbara Haralise Jean '55 and Art were at Moffett Field, Calif. for training.

Sabre Wood Lindsey in Henderson, Ky. is half way through her master's, and is in the process of building a home. Gross was recently elected to the legislature and does make it home for weekends. Thanks for Anne Capps Robertson's address in Virginia Beach. She wrote to say she and her husband probably expect that she and Bob will have been there for about two years with their six (not eight) children. Robert is C. O. of the U.S.S. Mitts DDG-35. And, also, Sabra, thanks for word of Patsy Hubbard Johnson who is in Vienna with her two children and teaching first grade.

Peggy Ferrer Geisler and Wayne have been in Birmingham two years with their two children 10 and 4. Wayne changed jobs and is now with Allstate-Commercial Lines. They are enjoying showing dogs.

For the Foxes: Kerr left the Civil Division of City Attorney's Office after almost five years. He joined a law firm of Lopardo and Hoffer in Encino, a few miles north of San Diego. He is in the general practice of law, but his specialties are property and business. One of Kerr's last acts before leaving the City Attorney's Office was to draw up the San Diego Park District's proposed bond issue. Several neighborhoods were given a financing vehicle by which they could acquire open space lands for park and recreation purposes, utilizing the assessment district procedure. It is the first such method for acquisition of open spaces in the United States and has been adopted by other cities in California. Kerr's efforts have fit into our present (and hopefully continued) concern about ecology. We so enjoyed our trip to Sarasota, Florida this past October. Jennifer 5, is in nursery school, and John 3, keeps me hopping.

I'm still sending out postcards and letters to classmates from whom we have not had a word for years. Please, gals, take a few minutes and respond. And, to those of you who have moved, do remember to contact us — a move, etc. — remember the Post Office gives out change of address cards. May I expect one from you soon?

A plea: Surely out of our great Class of '56 we have not developed an attitude of apathy and unconcern toward our responsibilities. The prevalent thinking here seems to be "let Hermie and Ozzi do it." We have done it! For thirteen years. We were not elected to office. In all fairness, we did it for them. Let's not be afraid to take responsibility of reporting the class news to others. Yes, we all have jobs, whether in the home or out, but that is no excuse for letting us carry the load, small though it is, especially if you enjoy receiving the news, and would like for it to continue. We cannot "appoint" gals to class officers. We must ask volunteers. We still have had only one. An election by mail cannot be conducted with one. Hopefully, there are more of you available. We could be so appreciative if we could have six to eight girls volunteering from the East Coast as well as the West Coast (and in between, too). Won't you please respond to our plea?

December brought all sorts of mail and I can't wait to relate it to you! I heard from some long lost classmates—how about the rest of you?

I was glad to hear from Lucile Fletcher Aussicker who wrote that she and her daughter are living in Tyler, Texas with her parents. They spend most of their time in the outdoors and generally "goading around" she says!

Beth Shuler Wampler and her husband Dick are currently stationed in Groton, Connecticut, where he is an assistant supply officer at the New London Submarine Base. They have two daughters who keep them busy. Beth is busy with many activities and also chairman of the SUBASE Officer's Wives Club.

Jean Callebaut Frankhauser writes that they are now living in Ridgewood, New Jersey, where her husband, Mike, is vice-president of the New York Stock Exchange. They just adopted a little girl, Vicki.

Evelyn Nutt Ewald and husband Joe are living in Vicksburg, La., where Joe is an operations manager of the Pacific Engineering Company. Evelyn writes that life there is very slow moving and warm. She spends her day running her household and servants, as well as working part-time at USAID. They have one daughter, Vicki, 10, and are expecting the "Southeast Asian work" in June. The village that they are living in is a small town in Southwest Kansas in the early thirties.

Bobbie Falckay Wright and husband Jim are currently in Yokosuka, Japan where he is Navigator for the Admiral of the Seventh Nancy Powell Sykes had a daughter Valerie, born in April. Martha Pharr Robinson '64 had daughter Christine, born last August.

Ethel Hill planned to spend the Christmas holidays in Florida. She has recently become vice-president of her company in New York City.

Nancy Hefferson Marion is in Baltimore. Her daughter Mary will be two this February—Nancy is expecting a new baby this April. Judy Englehardt Cook wrote from North Carolina that she is attending school again—I presume you are working on your master's. Judy, Charles' son, is now three and goes to nursery school. In June Reg's brother married, and Judy's sister Linda got married. Judy was busy making her bride-mail dress and head pieces for the five attendees. Judy, Reg and family vacationed in Georgia, Tennessee, and North Carolina—but at the time, Judy said it seemed more like an "escape" from all the activity. Charles is still talking about his first vacation with Mom and Dad. This summer he plans to come to the U.S.—for that much-needed contact with people, and also to do some house hunting. Hope this winter is healthier for your family. Judy, last winter all the Cooks had the Hong Kong flu and suffered various complications through March. Guess that was the story for many of us last winter.

In January, our local chapter gave a bridge fashion show which was a complete success. Our Grand Stewart '61, Kathleen Sprinkle Liggett, Luanne Halusa Parsons '61, Myrt (Mary Ellen) Edwards Power, and I formed an expanded table, a little too many for bridge, but just the right number for a grand gabfest! Myrt and her husband, Tom, moved from Baltimore to Newport News, Va., last October. He is a National Guardsman. Myrt hooked grand—we hadn't seen each other in eight years—my it doesn't seem like long! Anyway she had much news. She hears from her old roomies, Marjorie Malqueño Robertson and See Whichard Clift. Marge is working on her master's in education with specialization in counseling. She and her husband reside in Norfolk and have two sons. See's mother is a widow and stays at the Senior Academy in Norfolk, and they have two boys and a girl. Pat Pascareas Galvin and husband are living in North Carolina. Kay Christian Haner is living in Richmond and has two sons; also living in Richmond is Melinda Luck Shepherdson. Mary Frances Oliver Lambert is living in Virginia Beach. Linda is still in college, excepting her fourth. Donna Floyd is married. Myrt did not know her married name and thought she was living in Richmond or her. Other news was that Lori Chermak (sorry Lori, we do not know your married name) is in Baltimore Md., and Dee De Zaezaat was married soon after graduation. Linda and Jim are married and are junior year to University of North Carolina to a minister. Sue Grandy Gibson is still in Norfolk. As you can see we review many delightful and happy memories. Kathleen modeled many luscious outfits and our show was a complete success. Nancy Powell Sykes, our chapter vice-president, was also there. As for myself, Bob and I are going to be married this summer—just how quickly it seems. Katie is in kindergarten. Robbie in nursery school, and Patrick wishes he could go some place in the morning—oh! the disadvantages of being two. Again many thanks for all the news—am waiting to hear from you.

Until next time,
Pat

Hello again!

Early in December, George and Betsy Laving Robbins vacated their home in Southern Calif. and visited with Carter Foster Wible and Harold in Mission Viejo. I missed seeing Betsy but did enjoy the chance to talk to her by phone. The Robbins live in North Carolina now and George works for General Electric.

Christmas brought lots of news about classmates so here goes. Betty Ash Dunbaud and Bill moved to Katonah, N.Y.—last October and Betty says they are still settling in a small cape Cod walled which the Cooks moved into. Mike and his daughter, Sam, are in Florida. Mike's parents are still in Fort Lauderdale. Sam's parents are in Blydenburg, N.Y. Susan Bieg Kiehl husband Taylor and two boys are stationed in Marina, Calif. Linda Herald Gross, Skip and two girls moved to Denver from Dallas the first of the year. Russell mentioned that she has all those girls' addresses and I am sure she is good to tell you Russell and many thanks.

Had two bits of news from girls of other classes. Murray Roberts Graff '65 and Art now have two boys with the December addition of Benjamin Campbell. The Graffs will be leaving the Marine Corps in the spring. Alice Andrews Jepson '64 wrote that she and Jim (John) (3) moved to New Jersey. Carol Clark (2) is back in Boston, founded a corporate finance department for Unic Securities Corp. Alice was very interested in the Southern California Alumnae Chapter so I'm hoping to see her at our next function. I'd like to correct a printing error in the last issue. Judy Wolfe Allen '62 and Jack Lee Johnson '62 moved to San Jose. Gerald Hallden '61 lives in Canoga Park, Calif. with her husband and two year old daughter.

I do hope this lengthy column is an indication that 1970 will be a new year's for all of us. Thanks to all who wrote and the rest of you drop a line soon. See you next issue.

Puerto Rico. Bev and Marcello saw Sue Walbridge Bailey and husband and baby boy who live there now. Sally Tarrant Bennett, Bob and daughter Travers are still in Richmond and Sally is still teaching. Lynne Blair and husband Mike have a daughter, Sam, in Fort Lauderdale. Mike's parents are in Blydenburg, N.Y. Susan Bieg Kiehl husband Taylor and two boys are stationed in Marina, Calif. Linda Herald Gross, Skip and two girls moved to Denver from Dallas the first of the year. Russell mentioned that she has all those girls' addresses and I am sure she is good to tell you Russell and many thanks.

Hi!

I received several letters from girls hoping to beat the deadline for the winter issue—the only time I have ever sent my news in a few days early! So here goes—a little late.

Wendy Shadwell is still curator of an art collection in N.Y. One of her most important duties is overseeing the circulation throughout the country of a major exhibition of American Historical Prints. She has given lectures on the show and has written a catalog which was published last year! Wendy is now sharing an apartment with Joyce Colemen who has taken over as manager and director at the Speech School. They often travel to Dale Lipstick Rader—she was expecting their first child early this year. Dahney and Leo are still stationed in the Marshall Islands. Another correspondent is Joyce Heederson Looper. She and Linda live in Madison, Ala. with their daughter Karen, (5).

I was so glad to hear from Kay Barrett Bilinsky. Their Elizabeth is three and an addition to the family was expected in March. Kay stays busy as V. P. of the Jr. League of Winston-Salem and they just have a new addition to the family with a retarded child. Who is an extensive with Woodburn & Luthrop in D.C. C—an hour's drive from their home in Centreville, Kay enjoyed a visit with Anna Wallace last winter. Anna was still with FDIC in Washington.

Ginger Rawlings Parker, husband Steve, Kathy (4) and Ann (2) are living in Blacksburg. Ginger taught in Roanoke for two years and has done some graduate work in history at VPI. Her big interest now is politics and she is involved in the local state candidate for the House of Delegates. Dave is working on his Ph.D. in sanitary engineering Judy Flax Boera was in Blacksburg until last summer when husband Ben received his Ph.D. in biochemistry and they moved to Va. Beach. Ben is teaching at Old Dominion. Judy is a teacher of young children in grades 1, 2, and the baby which was due in Dec. She would like to hear from anyone in the Va. Beach area. Her address is 3013 Culver Rd. She was surprised to find her freshman roommate, Mary Kay Forney Cook also in Blacksburg and Bill has two children—Kristen, 4, and Carolyn.

Rebecca (Becky) Ross (Mrs. Victor) lives in Laurel, Md. now and had her first child in December. Mary Celeste Cecilia Rice Roach (Mrs. Wm.) lives in Virginia Beach and had her second ^{g-t} Pamela, in Sept. Their Kelly also—Lois Smith Irving and husband Tom are in Minneapolis in Bayside, Minn. Tom is with the airlines and as yet they have no children. Beth Wharton is still at Virginia Beach working in Norfolk at the Naval Station and travels constantly. Beverly Reepor Lawrence married Marcelline Funa in October and they live in Charlottesville. We went to the wedding in the UVa Chapel and it was lovely. While on their honeymoon in Bárbara stopped working this past summer when Dave graduated. He is now with an advertising agency and Barbara is a full-time mother to Susan, 2. Betsy Evans Macchione has a son, Y. C. and has one old son, Edward.

Newspaper news: Nancy Ledewick Draper — she, Walter and their two sons (Scott, 8 and Glenn, 5) are in Honolulu where Walter is stationed with the Navy. Nancy enjoys doing decor and Toile painting and she and Walt just completed building a log cabin up the hill in their family room! They have a dog, Jerry. "The sense of accomplishment is great, but it's greater to be finished!" She would like to hear from any classmate who may be visiting Honolulu—they will be there until 1972. Then they hope to be back on the east coast. Nancy sends news of a "lost" classmate, John Gandy. John and Charley (2) moved to San Diego. John is now a financial manager for a large corporation. A few years ago he and Jerry were married and they have two daughters, Adrian and Janet.

Congratulations to Fran Ryas Myers and Charley on the birth of their third child, Joseph, in Dec. Charley left for his second tour of duty in Viet Nam in Jan. Fran will be living in Hampton while he is gone.

Christmas cards brought a lot of news! Jewel West Norman and family are now in Raleigh—moved in Dec. We hope to get together soon. Also in a new home (thelynchburg) are Barbara Yancey Williamson James, and their two boys. Linda is now singing in the Fine Arts Center Chorus but had to take a few weeks off in Feb. when her third child was due. Speaking of children, Mary Lamb Bend Lucas ('64) has a three year old son, 14 year old twin girls, and was expecting her second set of twins in Dec. Julie Burek Sutherland Philip and daughter, Sherrod, age one, are still in Memphis. Julie's son, Dennis, and Richard Cagle Kay's address: 210 Buckeye Dr. Richmond. Dottie has a three year old son.

A little girl was born in early February to Sandy and Kathy Friedman Levinson. Karen's brother David is two. A note from Barbara Moore Wheeler supplies me with very temporary new address. She, Jim Randy (5), and Christopher (2) are暂住Westinghouse in Pittsburgh, Pa. and she plans to move to Channah Park Dr. and she will be sure to let us know when she has a permanent address.

Barker Yancey Williamson sends in the following news: Anne Hammesale Sale and Raymond are back in the Richmond area. Raymond is safety Director for Firestone Synthetic Fibers in Hopewell. Anne is teaching food service to educable mentally retarded teenage boys. Son Preston three years old. Tish Noble Jensen is still in Suffolk. She was expecting their first child in July. Her husband is a police officer's wife. Mary Page Burles Cosby and Alan are in Lucy still. She's working as a research specialist this year and is due to receive her master's from Madison College in June. Their Michael is four. Barbara would like to hear news from or about Judy Bower.

Cathy Cole Carmichael went to D. C. Jan. 1969 and worked at Walter Reed. She met and married a resident in internal medicine. On Christmas Eve, 1970, their Ben was born. Linda and the Carmichaels were married in San Antonio. Cathy's husband is a surgeon in a cardiology clinic at Brooke Gen. Hospital at Ft. Sam Houston in D. C. Cathy saw Mary Russ often. She is teaching braille to blind children. Abby LeSuer Carter and Stuart are living in Va. Beach where Stuart is a lawyer. Stuart, Jr. in three Cathy would like addresses for Betsy Johnson Gossard Joye Gottlieb Richman.

Alice Eckerdore Akers is living in Seville Spring, Ga. with Bill and their two daughters, Susan, 2, and baby Pam. Bill is working on his thesis and should have MSEE from GWU in June. He is with Astro Geo Astro in College Park Md. Cleo Wataker Finsley, Barbara, and daughter age 3, are in Butler, N.J. Cindy has a part-time job as personal attendant in a madam's house in the area. Anne Radke Atchley is in Springfield with husband Charles and son Dana. See Alice's roommates, Sally and Ruthie Sather visited Alice in October. She teaches phys. ed. in a high school in Richmond and raises dogs in her spare time. Her house mate is Bonny Foxey Fox's mom who went to MWC for two years.

That's about all for the spring issue—thanks to all you girls for your letters and news!

We didn't get many letters this time, but those we did get were chock full of news. Diana McCord Dickman tells about herself and old MWC friends. She is currently a Veteran Administration fellow working on her Ph.D. in audiology and speech pathology at the University of Maryland. She and her husband Neil, a lawyer, live in Georgetown.

Leslie Smith was married in New York City in January to Jim Needham, an economist.

Camille Chesser Gendell is expecting her second child and lives in Holland, Pennsylvania, where Tony is an engineer with Drawe, Jean Rhodus Austin, Tom, and their two children also live in Pennsylvania and see Camille often.

Peggy Hawks Benson lives in Garland, Texas, with John and their two children, John, Jr., and Heather. Hope Reynolds lives in Washington, D.C., and has a glamorous job working for a congressman. Thanks, Diana, for all this news!

Barbara Kerr Clark had lots of information for us. She married David in July of 1967. They have a daughter, Heather Ann, and are optimistically predicting a son in March. Their other daughter, Heather, is a black kitten! David is employed by RCA in Camden, New Jersey, in Commercial Electronic Systems, traveling to such places as Puerto Rico and Peru.

Fran Thrasher Beaumont and Pete live in an old home in Germantown, Pennsylvania, with their son Pete, Jr. Dad is a successful banker with Continental Bank and Trust, reports Barbara.

Mari Shatto visited the Clarks several times before moving to California where she became the "Siren of San Francisco!"

Another letter was from Evelyn, who is at the Library of Congress to devote full time to finishing up work on a master's in education in the field of social studies. While at the University of Virginia, she helps at the Alderman Library. What a busy girl! Her new address is 120 E. John Street, Charlottesville.

After doing graduate work in education and Dominguez Hill, Bill Simons now works as a graduate counselor of Syms University in Hampton. The new last name was acquired in August when she married Baxter Simmons, a Randolph-Macon graduate, who is contract manager for The Rug Show, Hampton.

Jane Gallagher Lanning and Charlie have moved to Memphis, Tenn., where he has been promoted to Assistant District Manager. She saw Hope Hemmeryer for short visits while they were in Atlanta. Hope is helping with the opening of the Atlanta branch of Tiffey's Jewelry Store, the works in their N.Y. City office.

With the coming of spring and summer people will be out doing more things, so let me know what you are up to, girls.

Judy

such Jones. Sandy writes that her husband, Wathers, has left teaching to work for the Forest Service Division of Gandy and Wickes Company. Sandy herself keeps busy caring for daughter, Lea, 3 years old, and Lynn, 10 months. Kathy and Chuck Jones were in Lynchburg in October and Sandy visited with them at the home of Kathy's aunt and uncle, Dr. and Mrs. Waldo M. Waters. Kathy and Chuck have been teaching and studying at the University of the Americas in Mexico City, Mexico. Kathy now has her master's degree from New Mexico Highlands University in Las Vegas, New Mexico. They are off now to spend some time in Europe, principally Spain.

Sandy also writes that Sue Collier Tate is living in New York City, while Bill is studying at Union Seminary. I assume he's out of the Navy, Sue? Sue and Bill are expecting a baby in April. Congratulations is this the first?

Please keep the news coming. I'm sure everyone in the Class of '64 enjoys hearing from us. Please send this column as much as I enjoy your letters and post cards. The deadline for the alumnae newspaper and my deadline are about to collide. I'm expecting our first child sometime in February.

Ruth

I am delighted that some of you wrote me newsy Christmas notes, but I would still enjoy hearing from some of our long lost classmates.

Prayed new homeowners who wrote me are Lou Davis Smith, Evelyn Branigan Sanford '63, and Linda and Brian Lee. Her husband, David, and their son, Michael, are enjoying their new ranch house in Beltsville, Maryland (near Silver Spring) after traveling extensively in all of the free European countries except four. They were all students in England for two years, and in Germany for many years. Now that they are civilians once more, David is an electrical engineer with the Department of Defense.

Evelyn and Brian Siedel received their master's degrees in June, 1969. They live in Monrovia, Va., where Evelyn has switched from teaching to social work. She and Bill find that their jobs frequently overlap, since he is the visiting teacher for the area.

Nancy and George Beach bought an old home, which they are remodeling. It is in the suburbs of Falls Church, where Nancy is enjoying her teaching George has expanded his appliance-television store business to three stores now.

I received an adorable Christmas picture card from our dear, Martha Ann McConnell Cappage. She, Shirley Reese, and son Christopher were on their bicycles in their Tampa, Florida neighborhood. I was married in the midst of a sevensome inch snowfall, so I was envious of the shirt-sleeved family. Chris was a year old in February, 1970, and a midwife of his father.

A move from Louisiana to the suburbs of Philadelphia seems to please Camille Chesser Gendell and her husband Tony because they are nearer to friends and to family. Tony is an engineer on a new bridge across the Delaware River. Camille is tending to their son, John, and she was awaiting another child in February.

We all remember Barbara Jones, as never lacking for character, who remained true to her principles in sending me five pages of news! She reports that Pam Beardsley Hoffman and Jay are living in Rock Hill, Mo. with their three beautiful daughters.

A well-traveled alumnaus Ann Christina Nelson (Chris), lives in Washington, D.C. and is office manager for Airport Association. Her job takes her to Montreal and Los Angeles, as well as to other cities.

Marge (Brett) and Breckett and Bill are in Illinois, where Bill is a commercial airlines pilot. Marge has received her master's degree from U. Va. They have a two year old daughter, Erin.

Two New York residents are Janet Davis, who has a job with the Army Red Cross and Betsy Ruth, who works as an editor. Betsy has almost completed her graduate work in education at Connecticut State.

Karin Jones has recently returned from a year in Greece. She is now working for the U.S. government as a computer programmer in Washington, D.C.

Barbara Jones has recently returned from a year in Greece. She is now working for the U.S. government as a computer programmer in Washington, D.C. She is considering taking a leave of absence to work toward her master's degree at George Washington University. She, too, has recently returned from Greece.

The column is becoming lengthy, so I'll save some of my news for the next issue. Let me hear from you.

Carol Edwards

Barkara Hill '68, Sosie Church Dillon '67, and my sullivans of 1969 in Mason—WHERE ARE YOU AND WHAT ARE YOU DOING??!! Please call all 65+ers contact me soon.

Patiently waiting,
Joye

Dear Class of '65,

With the start of a new year, I hope to hear from many of you who have not reported in during the last five years. If you don't have time to write, please make plans to come to our Homecoming during Homecoming at MWC. We now have many names, faces, places and families have changed, and we look forward to seeing you then.

First, a letter from Lee Smith Musgrave whose husband Dick is working on his doctorate at the University of Maryland. Dick, who plans to finish his degree requirements in May, Lee writes, "I am so happy to enjoy the graduate student housing area in College Park where there are many couples about the same age and loads of small children for Lisa. Dick received an assistantship for his studies, and Lee is padding the family income by bartending."

Lee recently bumped into Margo Olson in a College Park shopping center. Margo and Peter Olson, Lee's parents, have moved to a retirement community in Edgewater, Maryland. Lee and Abbyne Donald Tiller, who is still living in McLean and teaching in Arlington, often get together to chat while Lisa and Abbyne's son David plays. Lee writes that she occasionally talks with Margaret Makin Goldfarb who works as a buyer in DC for Goldfarb's and Mary Lou Shuster, Merton, who is living and teaching in Australia.

Brenda Hand Farrell and husband John have moved to San Clemente, Calif., where John has rejoined the Marine Corps. Judy Strawbridge Dickinson and Fred are now living in Rock Mount, N.C. where Judy is teaching in a private school. Doug Rishie is flying for Delta Airlines with Atkins as her home base.

Luisita Guijo Haas and husband Larry are currently in North Highlands, California, where Luisita is teaching high school and Larry is in the Air Force. Last summer they enjoyed a month's holiday in Europe visiting France and England.

Betty Massee Gibson writes that her husband Peter received his Ph.D. in history from the University of Illinois in 1960 and is now employed by the DuPont Company in New Jersey. They are residing in Edison, N.J. She recently heard from Faye Burroughs Duncan and mentioned that Sandy Jiles Jarrett, who transferred to MCV junior year, is now living in Flora Lee, Fla. and her son, Michael, is a sophomore at MCV. Marilyn has also moved from Beverly Walsh Everett who spent the past year teaching in Newport News while awaiting the return of her husband, Peter, from Viet Nam.

was born December 4th and weighed 9 lbs., 7¹/2 oz. Big brother Jay appears to grow more adorable all the time, and Murray says he is quite a pistol! Art has put in his letter to get out of the Marine Corps in March, so the Graffs will soon be moving from Pensacola.

Judy Bailey Givens '64 and husband Gary like Colorado so much they have decided to stay and have purchased a new home in Denver. A year ago in September they moved to Boulder, where Gary worked on his Ph.D. and taught at the University. Other news from the Class of '64: Anne Lisy Lynch and husband Bob are expecting in April as are Joanne Rose Willis and her husband, who is doing graduate work in physics here in Charlottesville before going to West Point to teach. Linda and Paul and Barry are expecting another one who will be a year old in the spring and a twin in Trenton. Barry recently accepted a new position in Princeton with the Educational Testing Service. Kay Hardy Welsh who graduated from Westhampton after attending MWC for two years and husband Bill have a beautiful little girl, Kristin, who was born in February. Linda and Bill are here in Charlottesville, while Bill is working on his MBA. Barbara Hague Stevenson '68 is teaching in the Albemarle County Schools and Phil is a member of the UVA MBA program where he was awarded a scholarship for his top ranking in the class.

Guess that about wraps it up for this time. John is still busy with his graduate business studies here in Charlottesville, and it appears I will continue teaching my eighth and ninth graders until May. I am also involved in the planning of our May second. John graduates in June and then the three of us will pull stakes and head for who-knows-where. Best wishes to all for a prosperous 1978, and please fill my mail box with news of your doings.

Hi All,

Hope everyone is making plans to attend our 5th reunion this June. Trite as it may sound—How time does fly! I know coming will be an impossibility for some of you because of distance, other obligations, and the stork. Why don't those of you who can't come to the reunion bring your sons & daughters along? It would be a great way to keep in touch with your family, etc. to take to the reunion? The pictures won't replace having you there, but it will give the rest of us a chance to "hear" from you. I certainly am looking forward to seeing everyone!

Suzanne Mason Haff writes that after teaching three years in San Diego she returned to U Va graduate school in Sept. '68 and met her husband there for the first week! She received her M.Ed. in June of '70. Her husband is the last of a string of doctors in a man in theoretical nuclear physics at U Va. and they hope to be connected with a university after he receives his doctorate!

Mary New Gil was Suzanne's matron of honor when she was married in the U. Va. chapel. Susie Pedigo '68 helped at the book and Ginea Wade Hart came down from New York. Ginny's husband, Ed, has begun working for IBM. According to Suzanne, Linda Glynn '68 is working as a writer for an oil company in Houston, Texas. Vicki Wyatt Brinkley, husband, and two sons, age 4, and 5. Jackie sees Claire Sims fairly often. Claire is still working as a therapeutic dietitian in a New Jersey hospital.

Another question. Pat Riley Harris, last heard of in '64 was in Madison, Wisconsin. Since that time there has been no word of her. Someone, there must be someone of you who know the whereabouts of this "missing person."

Dorothy Davis Craig and Daley attended the National Homecoming in Birmingham.

Their winter. From there they flew to Jacobs for a short vacation.

While camping, Dottie gave birth to her son, Matt Johnson.

While camping, Dottie gave birth to her son, Matt Johnson.

Jeannie Johnson Huguen writes that after two months of living with others they have finally moved into their own home in Smyrna, and will probably return to Atlanta for the summer. Jeannie's son, a flight surgeon, Dainger Shannon is keeping Jeannie busy with teeth and walking.

Stephanie Cadman Coker writes that her husband Wesley is in the middle of his internship at U Va. hospital and will join the Navy next summer.

Hele Simpson Lee says that Sarah Ellis Davis wrote that she and Jim are having a good time exploring the country in their mobile home. They have visited national parks in Wyoming, Utah and Montana and hope to visit the Pacific Coast this spring. They will be headed back for New London. Come this summer and then possibly will go on the Charleston, S.C. in the fall. Duanna

Gates Mason is still teaching and she and Bill are planning to build a home before long. Judi Hawley Whitestone is in Annandale and has two boys now.

One last item—Sandra Bock has returned to Lima, Peru to teach at a school for Chinese children.

There is little news to report since last I wrote. There are a few things though. Ruthie Rutherford Crouch has moved from Redstone Arsenal, Alabama to Kensington, Md. Claire Staudinger de Groot has returned to the Alexandria area from Rochester, N.Y. June Weledinger Lacks has taken a giant step across the country from North Palm Beach, Fla. to Woodside, Calif.

There are some of you who are very much lost to us, and I would much appreciate hearing from anyone who knows of your whereabouts: Felde Wagner Jones, Betsy Peterson, Lucille Palladino, Giesla (Bunny) Robbie, Rita Brabs, Phyllis Kistler Touchstone, Tim Lamparski, Marjorie Meyer and Jean Britton.

Some sad news. An effort has been made to locate the death of Ruth Underwood Lamont. This has taken long months and I expect that Betty Je Brathwaite Gayle and Mary Anne Hestwold Conk know the particulars of this. Ruth was married to a colonel serving as a military attaché at a South American embassy and traveled with him on many assignments. She died, presumably of a pulmonary infection in the Canal Zone about 3½ years ago.

Other moves: Mary West Crocker Ball from New York to Virginia Beach, and Virginia Ball and Ethel have returned to this country from England. They are now living in Bedford, N.Y. Carol Edgerley Cooper has moved from Camp Lejeune, N.C. to the USAWC in Carlisle, Pa. and Betty Holland Lusk from Florence, Ala. to Signal Mountain, Tenn.

Susan Hutchenson Jurgens and family spent their vacation last summer in the Great Smoky Mts. On their way they spent the night with Phyllis Webb Peggam, husband "Smoke" and 5 children in their huge new home. Maxine Hale Hazelgrave had a son, born Sept. 9, 1969. The Hazelgraves also have two more, ages 10 and 14.

Frances Ann Bell is in Andover, Massachusetts, moved from New Bedford, where she was head of the public library. She is now director of Memorial Hall Library in Andover. This is a subregional resource center for 23 libraries north of Boston. She has a "new" apartment in an 1898 mansion house.

Has anyone heard of the whereabouts of Jimmie Rae Bowes? She was last known in Michigan but that's been some time ago. Jessie Bowman is also "missing."

Jackie Bobbin Blanchet and husband visited us this winter, the first time we'd seen each other in 17 years. She and Alex, who works for Field and Stream Magazine, had been at a meeting at The Homestead Hotel. Their son, Matt, is 18, and daughter, Anna, 15. And Jackie sees Claire Sims fairly often. Claire is still working as a therapeutic dietitian in a New Jersey hospital.

A lot of items of this time so I'll try to be concise. Thanks to all who contributed.

Received a letter from Sherrill Poehler Smith with news of some "forgotten" MWC'ers. Diana Schaefer Martin is living in New Mexico with her husband, a 26-year-old daughter, Ann Marie. Tammy has returned to Virginia Commonwealth University and Diana is doing some substitute teaching.

Anne Vadeo and Sandy Roseoe are sharing an apartment in Richmond, and both are teaching at Tucker High School.

Sarah Dixie King and Tammy moved back to Sarah's home town of Staunton and bought a house. Sarah is still teaching. Diane Twigg Krol is also living in Staunton with her husband Richard and baby boy.

Sherill and her husband Joey reside in Richmond where Joey is a lawyer with the Commonwealth, while Sherill is a teacher. Sherill was previously employed as a research assistant at MCV but is now busy being a mother to her 18-mo. old son Jody.

Bobbi Bishop Mann sent a long and newsworthy letter. She and her Army Capt. husband Bob are at Redstone Arsenal, Alabama (226-C Dyer Circle). He had a tour in Viet Nam so they were fortunate to spend New Years a year ago in Honolulu on R&R. (They stayed in the same hotel where Kent and I honeymooned.) Bobbi has been doing some substitute teaching, but is now enrolled full time in the U of Alabama in Huntsville working on Elementary Certification.

Barbara Clark Brown and Michael visited the Mansons last year. Bobbi said that she is now working on her Master's in library Science at the U of Wisconsin.

Elizabeth (Elbridge) Alford is teaching second grade while John is in his last year of medical school.

Kathy Goddard Moss and Tom spent part of last summer in France where Tom attended a conference. He is now working in research for IBM in New York City, and Kathy is a teacher in Paris.

Bobbie said that Ann Kate Lindblom was expecting a baby in February. Her husband Steve is temporarily stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga.

Thanks again for the news, Bobbi.

Kay Dawson's and Larry Meyers' beautiful November wedding provided a small reunion for a few of us. Mary Wright Day was a bridesmaid, and others present included Lucy Netzer and Pat Wood. Pat has an interesting job as a physical therapist for Dr. Dickerson, Md. She also teaches physical education in Bethesda. Mary Wright Day and Wayne have an apartment in Rockville, Md. Mary teaches sixth grade and Wayne works for Honeywell. We spent an enjoyable evening in the Days' home along with the newlywed Meyers after their Nassau honeymoon.

Ryan Stewart Davis and Roger were in the Bahamas during the winter. Roger has graduated from the U of Montana and is now employed by the Northern Pacific Railroad in Missoula. Ryan is taking some courses at the University and selling Fuller Brushes in her spare time.

Judy Blum Wasserman and daughter Leslie were also east in December. Judy and Steve have bought a home in the St. Louis suburbs. Judy will make room for that new little one due shortly.

A Christmas card and note from Pam Kearney Berg said that she and Steve will be going to Texas for a couple of months and then to Norfolk. They don't know if their little one will be a Texan, Virginian or Highway 95-an!

In November I received a phone call from Barbara Marrs '47, from L.A. It seems she was using Paul Newman's credit card number! We had a nice long chat. Barbara lives not far from Nasco. Alford Hernandezes have moved into a larger apartment in order to make room for their impending addition.

Ken Scotty and I have been doing some traveling. Thanksgiving was spent in Richmond where we stayed with Marilyn Wood Hunter, Dee Des Nottingham Ward and families. The three baby boys, (all adorable!) had us all "ooing" by the end of the evening. The Wards have since moved to Glen Burnie, Md.

In December we again headed south, this time to Florida. Our way we paid a visit to Ft. Myers and Brenda Lay Crookley at Ft. Myers. Brenda was 9½ months pregnant at the time, but very hospitalized. On our return trip we again stopped to see the proud parents and their new little son whom Mommy had named "Lance" and Daddy "Sam." At the age of one week, the little boy looks like his mother.

We also stopped in Lakeland where I had a nice chat with Jess Rogers-Daley. After their December wedding, Jess and David honeymooned in Bermuda.

Also while in Virginia, I had lunch with Cindy Minnick Redella and a mutual friend, Cindy left. MWC after our junior year to get married. She has since finished college at GW and is now a computer programmer with Honeywell. One of her co-workers is Joanne Lett '65 who went into programming after teaching junior high math.

Mary Camper and Julian Boudreau have been sharing an apartment in Sacramento while both were working at the University. At mid-December, Mary will be transferring to Lynchburg in early March. Recently Mary and Julia visited Carolyn Richardson Shaw and family, who have been living at Lexington Park, Md. since September. Bob is stationed at Patuxent Naval Air Station. They have a year and a half old daughter Robin.

Ken and I have one more semester in New Hampshire and then we plan to move south for good!

Keep the news coming!
Ginny

Hi! There seems to be a little more news this time. Several people have written. We do wish some of you would pen a few lines and/or join in our local activities.

From Dee Marie Duncan a great letter filled to the brim with new babies! It reads as follows: Deanne Waile Shinderman live in Alexandria where Paul is a system's analyst. They have a new little girl born on January 6th, Lynn Williams Etka and Craig are stationed at Ft. Sill in Lawton, Okla. They have a little girl who was born a year ago. Judy Zipp Palmer and Larry have bought a home in Arlington. Larry is working in the V.A. and they have a little boy! Appi Krubome Pontyne and her husband just bought a home in Newport News. Angie has quit teaching there to open a day care center. They are moving to a new home in the junior high. They have a son, William born last November. Thanks for all the new Dept. We really enjoyed hearing from you!

Received a beautiful picture of her new daughter (born on Nov. 9th) from Katharine Gaddard Moss. She and Tom are moving to the Bay Area in March. Tom's job has been moved to Porterville, Calif. Katharine writes that they bought a house with lots of trees—a great change from urban apartment living! Mary Parsons Black and Ron have moved to Watertown, N.Y. in Ron's new position with Lily Co.

Patty Berg Bergman and Don are stationed at Ft. Benning, Georgia. Frank writes that Corky Wells Shah is enjoying life in Colorado. Her husband is in graduate school and she is involved in volunteer work and care of little Colin.

At Kats' Lindblom (Kately) is living at Fort Benning, Georgia. She and Steve will be going to Texas for a couple of months and then to Norfolk. They don't know if their little one will be a Texan, Virginian or Highway 95-an!

I have run into two MWC '66 grads these last few months — I saw Barbara Barriga Rowe and her husband at the base exchange at Fort Devens. They are in New Hampshire for a short tour and Barbara is teaching. Then one day at Harvard Square I ran into another '66 grad who was in Boston for the summer. She lives in the D.C. area and works near Amadoris.

Guess that just about winds up this session! Len and I are heading for a ski week at Waterville Valley and on return will be hoping for spring weather! Do write!

I was delighted to receive a news letter from Barbara Barry Kramer this winter. She wrote that she had received her master's degree in English from Boston University in August 1968. Barbara is now a management consultant, planning at the first International Bank of Boston. She is editing and writing instructional materials relating to their project of computerizing operations involving about 800 people. Barbara says that it is a fascinating job especially for an impractical English major. Her husband, Bart, is a department manager with Gillette's Research and Development Division and is studying at night for an MBA at Boston University.

Susan Greene is also living in Boston and is working at the Beth Israel Hospital there.

Priscilla Barnes Johnson '68 lives near Barberville, Mass. Barbara and Priscilla are quite active in the small but encouraging Quaker community.

Marcia Hileman Clark welcomed husband Terry home from Viet Nam in December. In January they moved from Falls Church to Camp Lejeune, N.C.

Nancy Lloyd Jones is working as a secretary to the relations director in Princeton, N.J., and is planning to start graduate work in art history.

Helen Callahan Hutter and husband, Chris, returned from Okinawa and are now at the other 'end' of the world in Omaha, Nebraska. Helen and Chris enjoyed their 18 month stay in Okinawa and particularly enjoyed seeing all of their friends in Japan, Korea, and Hong Kong. Now they are both happy to be in their last year of school.

Peggy Burgess Salmon '66 and husband, Nick, moved to Evanston, Illinois in August '68. Nick is working on a Ph.D. in chemistry at Northwestern University. Peggy and Nick have a son, a little girl, Mara Gay, born in October.

Many of you may remember my freshman and sophomore roommate, Mary Jarman, who transferred to Southern Mississippi University. She has just completed her Library Science Degree at UNCP in Chapel Hill. Her plans to work in Washington, D.C. have been delayed by her need for a neighbor again for the past year and a half.

My husband and I are wondering where we will be next year at this time as we are in the midst of interviewing now. We are looking forward to his graduation from the MBA program in June.

I especially appreciate the letter from Barbara Kramer, and I hope to hear from others of you before the next bulletin goes out.

Betty

A Belated Happy New Year to You All! I started the new year and made out in the best way possible getting married in January 23rd to Army Captain and lawyer my trade, Murray Van Lear. After our small family wedding we went skiing—both of us for the first time—at the Homestead in Virginia. Marriage is the best thing that ever happened to me! I could ever see myself again! We are living together, though, and had to travel to Atlanta for C&P and he had to go to Boston and D.C.!

While all of this has been going on, I've received some tremendous letters from our segment of the alphabet. Please keep 'em coming, to my new address: 843-C Moren Road, Baltimore, Maryland 21234.

Since the last Alumnae News I have received a much-delayed letter (not her fault!) from Lynn Steele Haaske, who agrees with me that I should have written back to Beth and she is working at Atlantic Richfield in Philadelphia, she is a programmer and he is a systems analyst. She also wrote that Mimi Hoke and Jay Heitrick, her former apartment-mates, are also working at Atlantic as programmers. Mimi lives in California and Jay is in New Jersey. He has an apartment in Drexel Hill, a suburb, and that information is still correct girls!

I received a very informative letter from Brooke Somerville Caldwell. Her husband Geoff has completed studying for his MBA and graduated from American University. After a brief trip to Europe, the Caldwells were in San Diego where Geoff was working as a marketing associate. They are now in the Washington area; Geoff is still with Stromberg Datagraphics and Brooke is a technical analyst with Decision Studies Group.

Broke had much other news: Kathy Sheely Morrissey and George are in Chicago where he is beginning his studies at the MSA. U. Louise Hartzel Steelman and Lee have a new daughter, Beth, born in August. Congratulations! Lee continues in the VMI tradition with the Army in Alexandria. Mariea Hileman Clark should have welcomed her husband Terry's return from "that place" in September. Terry will move to Camp Lejeune where Terry will be stationed. Marcia was teaching in Fairfax.

Having just returned from working in the Washington area myself, I got wind of the fact that Abby Hopkins is now married to Tom Ford, a mechanical engineer for the National Semiconductor plant at the first International Bank of Boston. She is an editorial assistant for a magazine publisher for teachers and counselors. I am glad to see some English majors "make good," Abby!

Joe Thorpe Shewbridge thoughtfully sent along a whole digest of news from New Haven, Conn., where she's teaching and her Husband Mac is working on his doctorate at Yale. This summer she will be teaching at Yale. Mac will be an associate professor. She tells me that Susie Daws Ellerbrake and Dave are in Charlottesville, where Dave attends Virginia. Cheryl Tate Duke and Bill, who is teaching live near—you'll never guess—Fredericksburg! They have a twelve-month-old baby, Paul. Paul is in the Army, which is stationed in Richmond and just became engaged. In Virginia Beach are Glenn and Lynda Thorpe Updike and son Lee John. Far away from Virginia are Richard and Kathy MacLay Buck. Richard is in his last year of dental school and Kathy is teaching at San Diego, California. That sunshine sounds good enough for me!

I saw Barb and Chuck Shewbridge in Richmond. (She was Barbara Fisher.) Barb had seen in the paper that Elizabeth Andrews (in Charlottesville) is engaged. Congratulations!

Cee Gooden was married to Robert W. Klink in December. They are living in Richmond.

Since I had no better idea to do on my wedding day (!), I received a most welcome call from Pati Marilla Reider from New York. She and Franklin have finally returned from "way south of the border" (Brazil) and welcomed a daughter, Jessica Pisca, in early February.

Well, that's about all from here this frozen January. At least there aren't those five or six January exams to face! See you in the spring!

Many thanks for the unusual volume of mail this time. Thank heavens for New Year's Resolutions!

Sandy Phelps Hammond and husband Bill have bought a 4-bedroom colonial in Roanoke. Sandy is teaching Spanish in a Salem, Va. high school and is studying for her comprehensive for her M. Ed. in July. More news from Sandy—Barbara Ray Berning is a boy. Peter Reider on March 15, 1969. Suzanne—McCarthy in McLean, Va. Suzanne's husband Bill returns from Viet Nam in early March and they will be stationed at Quantico. Beth Valky Mehewiney had a party at Christmas and many MWC graduates were there. Her husband Tom is being sent to Germany and they will soon be living in Constance.

Maureen Murphy McCarty was married on April 26, 1968. Her husband, Dan is out of the Marine Corps now and is working for Electronic Data Systems in Dallas. Also living in Dallas are Sue Forsman Platt and her husband, Jim. Sue's husband, Jim's husband Dick has been a civilian since June and they are living in Cleveland, Ohio.

Judy Jackson is still teaching in Richmond. Nancy Bell has just announced her engagement to Rick Patterson. They will be married in May.

Sandy—McCarthy and Dan have been traveling a bit—he is in flight training before he begins his Viet Nam tour this spring. They are expecting a "blessed" event.

Other news from Maureen—Suzanne McCarthy ('69) and Sam Van Ness were to be married Feb. 21st. Catherine Rossi ('68) and Michael J. O'Brien were married Jan. 13th.

Olad from Sue from Sue and her husband was married on Aug. 23rd. She and her husband George are living in Gulfport, Conn. where he's teaching retarded children and will start graduate school this summer, and Sue is teaching 2nd grade.

Patricia Hileman was married in June to Joe Poppo. Hileman is in the Navy. She now is in Janschero, Arkansas where Joe is in graduate school and Betty is teaching the 4th grade. Fransy Seaville is working in N.Y.C. this year.

Kris Krutkile began teaching in West Point after her graduation. She spent last summer in England and France with Harry and Julie Daiford ('68). In recent Kris announced her engagement in September to Andrew Hayer and they plan to be married on Easter Sunday at West Point. They have bought a home and will be residing in Altoona, Pennsylvania. Jim and Karen are moving with a division of the Army Campania. Kris is now teaching English to high school seniors. She also writes that Marie Campbell O'Callaghan ('67) and her husband Michael and daughter Erin are now stationed in California. Leslie Russell Blithe has been as good at keeping in touch. Allen '68 is working for the FBI. Linda and Dennis Martin and Linda's mother will be moving somewhere south of N.Y. She is now working as a contract writer for ABC and loves it. Virgie Klips will start as a Pan Am stewardess in April.

Lissa DeShawn Willis and daughter Jeannine are now in their first year at Fort Benning. Party Diana Hoover and husband Billy expect their 1st child this spring, as do Sue Bowlin Fiedler and husband.

Nancy Jackson was married earlier this month to John Moncure. They are now living in Maine. Thanks to all of you for all the news.

I take this opportunity to thank all the girls who contacted me after Lynn's accident. I can't tell you how much your expressions of sympathy mean to me. Sheila Spivey, Lawsoe Stillman, Greenwood and I attended Lynn's funeral in Cleveland, Ohio, and Mrs. and Mr. and Ruthie and I were greatly appreciative of the thoughtfulness of many MWC girls. Lynn's contributions to MWC were countless, as were her enthusiasm and contributions to all of her endeavors. May this be an inspiration to all of us in all of our future endeavors.

Hi Classmates:

This will be short, because you have been negligent in your correspondence. Hope everyone enjoyed the holidays and is blessed with a profitable 1970.

Have heard from several '69ers and I will relate their news: Ann Chatterton is teaching 7th and 8th grade history and English in Woodbridge while she takes some writing courses. Debbie McFadden is in the same boat. Suzanne last November. Nancy Ethelma Foster's husband Bill returns from Viet Nam in early March and they will be stationed at Quantico. Beth Valky Mehewiney had a party at Christmas and many MWC graduates were there. Her husband Tom is being sent to Germany and they will soon be living in Constance.

Mairee Murphy McCarty was married on April 26, 1968. Her husband, Dan is out of the Marine Corps now and is working for Electronic Data Systems in Dallas. Also living in Dallas are Sue Forsman Platt and her husband, Jim. Sue's husband, Jim's husband Dick has been a civilian since June and they are living in Cleveland, Ohio.

Judy Jackson is still teaching in Richmond. Nancy Bell has just announced her engagement to Rick Patterson. They will be married in May.

Sandy—McCarthy and Dan have been traveling a bit—he is in flight training before he begins his Viet Nam tour this spring. They are expecting a "blessed" event.

Other news from Maureen—Suzanne McCarthy ('69) and Sam Van Ness were to be married Feb. 21st. Catherine Rossi ('68) and Michael J. O'Brien were married Jan. 13th.

Joining the ranks of the scholars is Carol Abel who is studying history at the graduate school of Lehigh University. She told me that Carol's Albert is working for the State Department and an incoming Junior Foreign Service Officer.

In closing, I wish to express, on behalf of the Class of 1969, sympathy to the family and friends of Lynn Ruby.

It looks as if the Jefferson sorority is making news—news! Karen Reeser is engaged to Art Christian of Ft. Wayne, and they are planning a June wedding; and I am getting married to Kenny Myers on May 2nd... shock!... Mel Sirosh was (finally) married to Tippy Runkle on Jan. 31st, and Jessie Patch Williams was in her wedding dress. Turner Johnson is still enjoying marriage and the Gulf Coast.

Kitty Culbiss is happy to have John back at UVA and out of U.V.N. Frances Smith Armstrong is "in Heaven" in her marriage, and makes many trips between Alexandria and C'ville. Jean LeMasurier has been keeping up with many of my news. It seems like old times again, except most of our classmates in the D.C. area—Sandy Hewitt is a management trainee at L. Frank, and is to be married in May.

Susie Ferres is a librarian (?) in Baltimore.... Nancy Gleeson is still dating our loving Marinest, Yea, Nancy!... Jeanie Zavrel loves her job at Woodson. Dot Craft is still jobbing at last resort, but has been fitting about from party to party.

Karen Jones continues to enjoy occasional bridge games between dates!... and I got a note from Debbie Morrison, who is still working for Lockheed in her overseas.

Karen Kline Radtke made a long return with lots of "Udids." She got married on Dec. 23, and couldn't be happier, 'the Jim will soon be in Nam. She hopes to get her master's (and he will work on a law degree at U. of Cincinnati) but is still working with United Airlines....

Betty Ferguson was a bride-to-be in her wedding to Peter in April. They are now in Richmond, D.C. and New York with her and Jim.

Sheila Spivey, Lawsoe Stillman, Greenwood and I attended Lynn's funeral in Cleveland, Ohio, and Mrs. and Mr. and Ruthie and I were greatly appreciative of the thoughtfulness of many MWC girls. Lynn's contributions to MWC were countless, as were her enthusiasm and contributions to all of her endeavors. May this be an inspiration to all of us in all of our future endeavors.

Jim and Karen are having fun. Linda and John plan a July wedding after he graduates from the Air Force Academy. Jim's brother is "engaged" to Barry Shamus.... Marthe Pichard was to marry Rip Zink on March 7.... Paule Fine loves her Pan Am job, which carries her to Latin America. Also, Jim is back from N.Y. ... Mary Saadman Hill has a baby girl on Jan. 1, and both are in Houston, Texas.

At the present time, Lynn Jones Sterling is a P.D. candidate at City U. of N.Y. Her major is Conditioning (Psych.)... Teri Thibodeau became the bride of LL M. Kent Ceremon of Fl. on Nov. 15.

Whee! Thank you, Jean and Karen! I expect the rest of you all to follow suit, and let me hear from you! Keep an eye out for my next change of address (Atlanta, Ga.) and the "Mayers" on the end of my name! Exciting! I look forward to hearing from you!

The Alumnae Association has at long last embarked on what may prove ultimately to be one of its most critical undertakings—a search for some 8,000 to 9,000 alumnae "missing" from the files. Such a vast project must be considered long range, but the Association, realizing that it can never prove truly an effective organization without accurate records, seeks the assistance of the more than 9,000 alumnae whose names and addresses are on file, present members of the College community—both faculty and students—parents and friends to assist in providing appropriate information. Below is a partial list of some of the "lost." If you know the whereabouts of any of these—or any others—please contact:
